THE GIANTS' SUPER BOWL RING

When it comes to important dates in Giants' club history, January 25, 1987 will forever rank among the most noteworthy as the day the Giants won their first Super Bowl by defeating the Denver Broncos 39-20 at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena.

Another date of importance, insofar as the Giant players themselves are concerned, will be May 22, 1987. That day was not only the final day of the 1987 off-season veterans' mini-camp, but it was also the day when Coach Bill Parcells presented each player with his Super Bowl ring in a private ceremony. It was a very personal and emotional meeting, one which the players will never forget.

Pictured on this page is the Giants' Super Bowl ring. The rings were manufactured by Jostens, Inc. of Minneapolis and were designed through a joint effort by Giants' management, coaching staff and players.

The crown of the ring displays a barrel-shaped blue spinel set with a 10-karat white gold crest in the shape of the Lombardi Super Bowl trophy. A three-quarter-carat marquise cut diamond replaces the football atop the trophy and an additional nine diamonds are encrusted on the base of the trophy. The year 1986 and the words "Giants—World Champions" surround the spinel base stone.

One side of the ring is personalized with the player's name and also features the Giants' helmet and the team's season record of 17-2. The other ring side displays the score of the game, 39-20, and has miniature replicas of the Super Bowl XXI emblem, the Lombardi Trophy and the NFC Championship trophy.

Speaking for the entire organization, Vice President-General Manager George Young put it succinctly when he remarked, "The Giants feel that this Super Bowl ring is both outstanding and unique and is certainly worthy of our team's many accomplishments."

A look at the past...

THROUGH THE YEARS

The New York Giants were the hook which held the ragged cloak of professional football's formative years.

The Giants franchise Timothy J. Mara bought in the summer of 1925 helped further pro football in a time when it was in danger of disintegrating for lack of money and public support. Mara held the line in New York. He kept the game alive. His tools were energy, family pride, money and a sure promotional touch. That he did so in a time when the sports headlines belonged to Babe Ruth and Bill Tilden...to Bobby Jones and Jack Dempsey...and to college football was remarkable.

Pro football? Few sports fans in New York had even heard of it, let alone seen it played.

Indeed, the game had much to be modest about in 1925. It was a shaky band of teams that called itself the National Professional Football League—then five years old. Made up of about 20 clubs—month-to-month changes made a hard number unattainable—this clumsy child of a league was manned by former All-America football players, aging Olympic stars, out of work baseball players, part-time cowboys, wrestlers, dock hands, factory workers and anyone else who felt he could play.

Club franchises in those days were bought, sold and moved about like rolling stock. A number of the 1925 teams failed. What little stability the young league had was centered in a combative ex-sailor named George Halas, who owned, coached and played for the Chicago Bears. Within 20 years this man would be known as Papa Bear, and his "cubs" as the fearsome "Monsters of the Midway."

Tim Mara's first contribution to this helter-skelter organization was $2,500, the price of the New York franchise. Some accounts put the figure at $500...that may have been the down payment. The Giants say $2,500.

His second contribution was to draw public attention to pro football. Toward that end, he tried to sign the great Red Grange, the Galloping Ghost from Illinois, but Halas and the Bears beat Mara to the prize. Mara wisely settled for second best—a final game in New York against the Bears, featuring Grange, but in a Bears'—not Giants'—uniform.

Public support for the game was vital to the plucky Irishman's football future. If Mara could fill the Polo Grounds, the Giants' home stadium, he'd break even. If not, New York, as a professional football town, might well have to go the way of Dayton, Rochester and Columbus as league dropouts.

The game against the Bears on December 6, 1925, turned out to be the first miracle of Coogan's Bluff. Archives of the day relate how an estimated crowd of 70,000 fans jammed the Polo Grounds, swarmed over temporary field bleachers, climbed rooftops and literally hung from the rafters in order to catch a glimpse of the fabled Galloping Ghost.

The Bears beat the Giants 19-7, with Grange scoring once on an interception. More important, however, was the enthusiastic reception the game evoked from the press and the fans. They loved the spectacle. That winter, Tim Mara and the other NFL franchise owners drew strength from the belief that professional football, given star players, the proper setting and enough publicity, could become a respectable—and profitable—enterprise.

But neither Mara nor the league were out of the financial woods yet. Spurred by the success of the Giants-Bears game, a promoter known as C. C. (Cash-and-Carry) Pyle, who held the rights to Red Grange's services, organized a rival pro league in 1926 and fielded competing teams in Yankee Stadium, just across from the Polo Grounds, and in Brooklyn's Ebbets Field.

It was a case of too much pro football, too soon, played before too few spectators. Before the 1926 season ended, the rival league folded.

And so, very nearly did the Giants. Dogged by bad weather, poor attendance and higher payrolls as a result of bidding against Pyle for player talent, Mara and the surviving league owners found themselves in dire straits. But they prevailed with worn uniforms, through coach travel on trains, in cheap hotels and with reduced squads; they scraped enough money together to keep their franchises operating through 1927 and 1928.

Keystone for survival were the Giants. As long as Mara could turn out a team in New York, with its many newspaper and radio outlets and its great population, there was hope for professional football.

Mara made his next major contribution to pro football in 1929 when he signed Benny Friedman, Michigan's triple-threat quarterback. Friedman's contract was held by the Detroit Wolverines. In order to sign him, Mara had to buy the Wolverines.

With Friedman in New York and Grange back in the NFL at Chicago, the Giants and the NFL began to jell. Schedules were formalized and followed. Player contracts ran for an entire season, rather than game by game. Newspapers carried accounts of games and league standings.

By now traditional rivalries between the Giants, the Green Bay Packers and the Bears had been firmly established. Excitement generated by the visitors from the midwest was enough to keep the league and its teams solvent through the depression years.

It was from this bleak period that the Giants' influence on the league shifted from personalities to game strategy. In 1931 Mara named Steve Owen head coach—a job Owen had shared with Friedman in 1930. The move had a profound effect, not only on the Giants, but on the game itself. Owen, a massive tackle who had practically filled one side of the Giant line in his playing days, became a coach whose trademark was hard defensive line play and a tenacious pass defense.

So successful were Owen's coaching tactics that they brought the team six divisional titles and two league championships in the 10 years between 1931 and 1941.

Owen is remembered for his famed "umbrella" defense against the pass. It had a six-man defensive line, one linebacker and four defensive backs—the 6-1-4 defense. But as the opponent's pass play developed, the two outside defensive linemen dropped back, instead of rushing the passer, to form a semicircle secondary, resembling the top of an open umbrella. This defense prompted many NFL coaches to adopt the four-man line, but it remained for one of his player-coaches, defensive back Tom Landry, to ultimately refine it (after World War II and under a later Giants' coach, Jim Lee Howell) into the 4-3-4 defense—the dominant defense of the past three decades.

Pro football, however, travels in cycles and in time the opposition solved Owen's defense with new attack patterns. Young, imaginative coaches led by Paul Brown introduced a more open style of play—multiple offenses and the option. Steve Owen's coaching career with the Giants ended in 1953.

His successor was Jim Lee Howell, a soft-spoken giant of a man who had played end for Owen in the years before and after World War II, and who had become the team's first end coach in 1948.

Howell's leadership brought a new structure to the club. A man who believed in delegating authority, he handed the defensive responsibilities to Tom Landry. It was under Howell that Landry perfected the standard 4-3-4 defense that popularized play in the '60s.

1954 was also the year Howell brought into the Giants' organization a man whose impact on the game would become a legend—Vince Lombardi. As Howell's first lieutenant and offensive coach, Lombardi introduced the power sweep with its intricate pulling and trapping lineman and crushing double-team blocks. Lombardi restored the ground game to prominence in pro football.

Eventually, Howell's people would flourish in the NFL. Included were seven former Giants players or coaches who had held or were holding head coaching jobs in the National Football League: the late Vince Lombardi, Green Bay Packers and Washington Redskins; Tom Landry, Dallas Cowboys; Dick Nolan, San Francisco 49ers and New Orleans Saints; Harland Svare, San Diego Chargers; Alex Webster, Giants; Bill Austin, Pittsburgh Steelers and Redskins; and Ed Hughes, Houston Oilers.

Out of the Howell regime, too, came a dozen or more assistant coaches, including Emlen Tunnell, the first black coach in the game. And for what it reveals about the intelligence and versatility of his old crew, a number of broadcasters—Frank Gifford, Kyle Rote, Pat Summerall, Al DeRogatis and Sam Huff. There are sound reasons why the Giants' organization is referred to as Mara Tech.

However you would define the influence of Mara's Giants on pro football—persistence in the face of adversity, timely promotion, pluck, coaching leadership, player ability—it adds up to what the NFL needed most in the early days and what it utilized later in its growth years.

THAT CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

And a History of Championship Games

By ED CROKE

The 1986 season proved to be a bountiful one for New York Giants' fans. In setting a plethora of individual and team records en route to their first-ever Super Bowl championship, the Giants made 1986 a tumultuous Sweet Sixteenth Party for their millions of fans across the country.

That number, "16" is an important one for lifelong Giants' fans, since the 1986 season produced the 16th NFL Championship game appearance for the Giants, dating back to 1927, and that total of championship game appearances is the most by any team in the National Football League.

To make that Sweet Sixteenth even more sweeter, the Giants powered the way to their first Super Bowl title with panache. First they crushed the San Francisco 49ers by a 49-3 verdict in the opening playoff game, then blanked the Washington Redskins 17-0 in the NFC Championship game before their 39-20 conquest of the Denver Broncos in the big one. The cumulative margin of victory in those three games, with the composite score of 105-23, set an alltime NFL record, with the 82-point differential erasing the former mark of plus-81 by the Chicago Bears in the previous year when the Monsters of the Midway mauled the Giants, Rams and Patriots by respective scores of 21-0, 24-0 and 46-10 for a 91-10 composite.

Not only did quarterback Phil Simms win the Super Bowl Most Valuable Player trophy for his superlative performance in the victory over the Broncos, but his masterful 22-for-25 passing, for 268 yards and three touchdowns, set not only an alltime Super Bowl record for passing accuracy (88.0%), but an alltime NFL playoff record as well.

Down 10-9 at halftime to the Broncos after a pair of tenacious goal line stands on defense, the Giants erupted for a Super Bowl record 30 points in the second half to win the championship going away. Simms was magnificent in that second half, pitching a perfect 10-for-10, including TD passes to Mark Bavaro and Phil McConkey. Ex-Navy pilot McConkey made two other dazzling plays in that second half to set up scores, first breaking off a nifty 25-yard punt return to position a Raul Allegre field goal which upped the lead to 19-10, then hauling in a 44-yard "flea flicker" pass to set up a Joe Morris touchdown run and a 26-10 bulge after three periods of play. An Elvis Patterson interception early in the fourth period had the Giants in business again, and then McConkey made yet another key play when he dove for, and caught, a deflected pass off Bavaro's helmet for the 6-yard TD grab to up the count to 33-10. After a Bronco FG had narrowed the gap to 33-13, Simms dazzled the Broncos with his feet as well as his arm, racing 22 yards on a bootleg to set up the final Giants' touchdown, this one a 2-yard blast by fullback Ottis Anderson, and with the score 39-13, Giants' fans began their long-awaited celebrations right about then. And head coach Bill Parcells' ceremonial Gatorade shower was not far behind.

As far as some of the other statistical leaders were concerned, Morris rushed for 67 yards; Bavaro, Morris, and fullback Maurice Carthon each had four pass receptions; cornerback Elvis Patterson had a pass interception; defensive end Leonard Marshall had two quarterback sacks, while defensive ends George Martin and Eric Dorsey each added one QB sack, and linebacker Carl Banks led both teams with 10 solo tackles in a masterful defensive showing.

While the Giants had themselves a well-earned celebration in the Rose Bowl locker room after the triumph, there were more celebrations and honors yet to come.

First, there was a dinner party for players, coaches, front office personnel and families later that evening at the team's hotel in Costa Mesa, and then on Monday afternoon, the team made the return trip home aboard a United Airline DC-10 with the logo, "New York Giants, World Champions" emblazoned on the nose of the big jetliner.

The following day, in sub-freezing 5° weather at Giants Stadium, close to 50,000 loyal fans braved the elements for a gala New Jersey celebration honoring the team and coaches. New Jersey Governor Thomas Kean presented special medals to all of the team members and coaching staff, and coach Parcells, who was to be a unanimous winner of all of the major Coach of the Year polls, said to the crowd, "I've got something here that I believe all of you have been waiting for" and then raised the Super Bowl Trophy on high to the joyous throng.

Shortly after that big New Jersey celebration, the Giants were back on a chartered United jetliner, this time for the short flight to Washington, D.C. where the team, coaching staff and front office met with President Reagan at the White House for ceremonies honoring the team for its Super Bowl triumph. After the President had congratulated the club during a 10-minute tribute, Phil Simms, Harry Carson and George Martin took turns at the podium to present President Reagan with a pair of Giant jerseys, home and away colors, with the names "Reagan" and "The Gipper" on the backs. Martin presented the President with an oversized replica of the Giants' Super Bowl ring.

Mr. Reagan was so enamored of the Giants' visit, that he asked the club assemblage to remain for a longer period of time so that he could visit with them again from the lawn of the White House as he prepared to depart by helicopter to Camp David for the weekend. When the President and Mrs. Reagan descended the steps of the White House to the lawn area, Mr. Reagan jolted Harry Carson by dumping a Gatorade bucket loaded with popcorn on the veteran linebacker. Carson reciprocated on the President to keep the mood a festive one, and one which will long be remembered by all of the Giants who were in attendance.

In winning the NFL Championship for a fifth time (the other crowns being in 1927, 1934, 1938 and 1956), the Giants moved into third spot on the NFL's alltime list for most league championships behind the Green Bay Packers and Chicago Bears who have 11 and 9 NFL championships respectively.

As for the rest of the Giants' championship game history, here are capsule accounts of the previous 15 Championship game appearances:

1927 GIANTS 13, Chicago Bears 7

Led by Steve Owen, the Giants finished with an 11-1-1 record, then stunned Red Grange, John Driscoll and the Bears 13-7 at the Polo Grounds. "It was the toughest, roughest football game I ever played in" Owen was later to say. With the score tied 7-7, the Bears drove to the Giants' one-yard line, but Owen and Cal Hubbard spearheaded a goal line defense which held the Windy City crew. Hinkley Haines then faked a punt from his own end zone and completed a pass to Charlie Corgan for a 58-yard gain which set up the winning score and elation for Tim Mara.

1933 Chicago Bears 23, GIANTS 21

Jack Manders opened the scoring for the Bears at Wrigley Field, Chicago before 26,000 with a 16-yard field goal in the first period to touch off 60 minutes of fireworks which kept fans standing on their chairs through most of the game. Manders kicked a 28-yard FG for a 6-0 lead in the second period before Harry Newman hit Red Badgro for a touchdown pass and a 7-6 Giant lead at the half. Manders' third FG regained the lead for the Bears, but Max Krause's TD and the conversion by Ken Strong put NY back in front 14-9. A pass from Bronko Nagurski to Bill Karr made it 16-14, Chicago, before Strong lateraled to Newman who then threw a TD pass back to Strong for a 21-16 Giant lead late in the game. The Bears bounced back to win, however, when Nagurski's jump pass to Bill Hewitt was lateraled to Karr for the game-winning touchdown.

Ken Strong

Coach Steve Owen

1934 GIANTS 30, Chicago Bears 13

With the temperature at nine degrees and the Polo Grounds covered with a sheet of ice, this one became famous as the "sneakers" game when Steve Owen provided his squad with basketball shoes to open the second half with his club trailing 10-3. The Giants responded with four touchdowns which had a crowd of 35,059 roaring approval. The Bears had a string of 33 games without defeat going into this one, but fell behind 3-0 on a 38-yard FG by Ken Strong. A TD by Nagurski and a field goal by Manders got the Bears in front 10-3 at the half, when Owen sent for the sneakers to take advantage of the slippery footing. Ahead 13-2 on another Manders' FG, the Bears were swamped in a fourth-period Giant uprising which saw Ed Danowski throw a 28-yard TD pass to Ike Frankian and Ken Strong race 42 yards for another TD just moments later for a 17-13 lead. Danowski and Strong raced for subsequent touchdowns against the stunned Bears to turn the game into a rout.

1935 Detroit Lions 26, GIANTS 7

With a crowd of about 15,000 looking on, the Lions took a 13-0 lead in the first period when Leroy "Ace" Gutowsky plunged over from the 2-yard line and Earl "Dutch" Clark shook loose on a 40-yard touchdown romp. The Giants closed the gap at 13-7 in the third period when Danowski connected with Strong for a 42-yard touchdown pass, but the Lions' defense accounted for two more scores in the final period on a blocked punt and intercepted pass. Ernie Caddel scored the first on a 4-yard slant and Buddy Parker the second on a 9-yard run.

1938 GIANTS 23, Green Bay Packers 17

A slam-bang, bruising thriller was staged for the largest crowd (48,120 at the Polo Grounds) to see a championship game up to that time. With the victory, the Giants became the first team to win the championship twice since the divisional splitup. The Giants blocked two punts early in the game, and capitalized on both with Ward Cuff kicking a 13-yard FG and Tuffy Leemans blasting over on a 6-yard plunge. Arnie Herber's 50-yard TD pass to Carl Mulleneaux got the Packers on the scoreboard, but Danowski hit Hap Barnard for a 20-yard TD pass and a 16-7 lead. The Packers closed to 16-14 at halftime on Clark Hinkle's 6-yard TD, then took the lead 17-16 on Engbreetsen's third-period FG. New York then stormed back to the Packer 23 from where Danowski passed to Hank Soar for the game-winning TD.

1939 Green Bay Packers 27, GIANTS 0

The Packers came up with sweet revenge in a grudge match played before 32,279 at Milwaukee's State Fair Grounds. Cold weather and a 35-MPH wind made aerial sorties a bit dubious, but Green Bay scored quickly on a 7-yard pitch from Herber to Milt Gantenbein. Engbreetsen kicked a 29-yard FG in the third period for a 10-0 lead, and the Packers wrapped it up with touchdowns by Joe Laws on a 20-yard pass from Cecil Isbell, a one-yard plunge by Jankowski and Ernie Smith's 42-yard field goal.

1941 Chicago Bears 37, GIANTS 9

Attendance was only 13,341 at Wrigley Field, just two weeks after Pearl Harbor Day. The Giants led 6-3 in the first period on a Tuffy Leemans to George Franck touchdown pass of 31 yards, but the Bears went on a pair of field goals, then broke the game wide open in the second half on touchdowns by Norm Standlee (2), George McAfee and Ken Kavanaugh.

1944 Green Bay 14, GIANTS 7

The Packers took a 14-0 lead at halftime before 46,016 at the Polo Grounds on touchdowns by Ted Fritsch—the first on a 2-yard plunge and the second on a 26-yard pass from Irv Comp with Don Hutson adding the conversions. Ward Cuff scored on a 1-yard plunge on the first play of the final period for the Giants, but the Packers hung on for the triumph.

1946 Chicago Bears 24, GIANTS 14

Sid Luckman was the big man for the Bears in this win before 58,346 at the Polo Grounds. He passed for a 21-yard TD to Ken Kavanaugh to open the scoring, then ran 19 yards for a score later in the game. Dante Magnani's 19-yard pass interception accounted for the third Bear score, while the Giants hit the scoring column on touchdown passes from Frank Filchock to Frank Liebel and Steve Filipowicz.

1956 GIANTS 47, Chicago Bears 7

Fullback Mel Triplett smashed 17 yards for a TD early in the game on an icy field before a big crowd, then Ben Agajanian added a brace of field goals for a 13-0 lead. It was 34-7 at halftime as Alex Webster crashed over for a pair of touchdowns from inside the 5-yard line. Charlie Conerly's aerials brought nothing but more woe to the Bears in the second half, with Kyle Rote snaring a 9-yard TD throw and Frank Gifford a 14-yarder to close out the scoring.

1958 Baltimore Colts 23, GIANTS 17

Some people call this the greatest game ever played, and perhaps it was for drama and its sudden-death ending. With a crowd of 64,185 on hand at Yankee Stadium, the Giants led 3-0 on a 36-yard Pat Summerall FG in the first period, with the Colts taking over 14-3 at halftime on scores by Alan Ameche from the 2-yard line and Ray Berry on a 15-yard pitch from Johnny Unitas. The Giants scored in the third period on a 1-yard plunge by Mel Triplett after an 86-yard gainer from Conerly to Rote with Webster picking up Rote's fumble. The Giants went in front 17-14 on Conerly's 15-yard TD throw to Gifford, but the Colts tied it with seven seconds to play on Steve Myrah's 13-yard FG and won in the overtime on Ameche's 1-yard plunge, the 13th play of a Colt drive.

1959 Baltimore Colts 31, GIANTS 10

A sellout crowd of 57,577 was on hand at Baltimore's Municipal Stadium for the big rematch of the divisional champions. The home crowd had plenty to cheer about in the early going as Unitas hit Lenny Moore for a 60-yard TD bomb, but the Giants surged back to stop the Colt offense. With Summerall kicking three field goals (23, 26 and 23 yards), the Giants led 9-7 going into the final period. But the Colts stormed back with a furious final period onslaught as Unitas scored on a 4-yard run, threw a 12-yard TD pass to Richardson and Johnny Sample returned an interception for another score.

1961 Green Bay Packers 37, GIANTS 0

With a crowd of 39,029 looking on in Green Bay, Paul Hornung paced the Packers to a stunning 37-0 triumph by scoring 19 points on a touchdown, three field goals and four conversions. On leave from his Army duties in Fort Riley, Kan., Hornung scored on a 6-yard slant in the second period to break a scoreless deadlock and set off a Packer splurge which accounted for 24 points in that quarter. The Giants were unable to recover from this onslaught and suffered their first shutout in nine seasons. Bart Starr's touchdown pass to Ron Kramer and a pair of Hornung field goals closed out the scoring in the second half.

1962 Green Bay Packers 16, GIANTS 7

Bitter cold weather at Yankee Stadium was no deterrent to 64,892 fans who turned out for the year's big one. As things turned out, a trio of field goals by Packer guard Jerry Kramer made the difference in a game where both defensive units turned in superlative jobs. The only Giant score was a result of defensive work when Erich Barnes blocked a Max McGee punt and reserve end Jim Collier fell on the ball in the end zone.

1963 Chicago Bears 14, GIANTS 10

The Bear defense turned the tide in this championship game, played in 10 degree weather in Wrigley Field. Taking the early lead on a 14-yard Y.A. Tittle TD pass to Frank Gifford and Don Chandler's FG, the Giants were the victims of five pass interceptions thereafter, two of which set up the Bear scores. Larry Morris swiped the first one for a return of 61 yards, while Ed O'Bradovich's steal of a screen pass set up what turned out to be the winning score. Tittle suffered a knee injury in the first half, but gallantly returned to action in the second half, though he was hampered and hobbled by his injury.

- 1977—Morton was traded to Denver. The Giants improved to a 5-9 record. McVay went with Joe Pisarcik and Jerry Golsteyn at quarterback. Csonka rushed for 100 yards on the last day of the season and finished the year with 464 yards.
- 1978—The Giants had a 5-3 record at the halfway point of the season but lost seven of their final eight games and finished 6-10. Punter Dave Jennings and linebackers

Harry Carson and Brad Van Pelt was named to the NFC Pro Bowl team. McVay was fired in late December. Robustelli, who had been the Giants' director of operations since 1974, resigned. George Young was named general manager in January, 1979. He announced the appointment of San Diego Chargers assistant Ray Perkins as head coach.

1979—Before the season began, tragedy struck as defensive tackle Troy Archer was killed in a traffic accident on June 22. Rookie Phil Simms, a first round choice, took over at quarterback. But the Giants had another 6-10 record. Dave Jennings led the NFC with a 42.7-yard punting average.

1980—A porous defense allowed opponents to score 425 points, second worst in the NFL. The Giants fell to 4-12. They did upset Dallas 38-35 after eight straight defeats. Jennings led NFL punters with a 44.8-yard average.

1981—With the second selection in the draft, New York chose Lawrence Taylor, a linebacker from North Carolina. The Giants started slowly, going 2-3, but then obtained running back Rob Carpenter from Houston. Carpenter sparked a three-game winning streak. A three-game losing streak dropped the club to 5-6, and then Simms was injured. Second-year quarterback Scott Brunner replaced Simms and the team responded with four victories in the final five weeks, including a 13-10 victory over Dallas in the season finale that sent them into the playoffs. On December 27, the Giants defeated the Eagles 27-21 in the NFC wild card game. The season ended for New York on January 3 when it was defeated by the 49ers 38-24 in a divisional playoff game.

1982—A wild, woolly and turbulent year which saw the NFL players' strike shorten the season to just nine games. The final game played before the strike pitted the Giants and Packers on a Monday night game from Giants Stadium in which a power failure caused a blackout during the game. Rob Carpenter was a holdout for most of the season, returning to play in just the final five games, and then on December 15, head coach Ray Perkins resigned to accept the head coaching job at Alabama, with defensive coordinator Bill Parcells being named to replace him in 1983. The Giants then lost two straight after the Perkins' announcement, and missed the playoffs on the final day of the season with a 4-5 record. Despite the adversity, four Giants—Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Mark Haynes and Dave Jennings—were named to the Pro Bowl.

1983—After breaking even in their first four games for a 2-2 record, the Giants were decimated by injuries during the rest of the year, with a total of 25 players appearing on the injured reserve list at one time or another. With players such as Harry Carson, Phil Simms and Rob Carpenter missing most of the season, and with the club leading the entire NFL in turnovers with 58 on 31 interceptions and 27 lost fumbles, the record tumbled to 3-12-1. The year was also marred by the tragic deaths of assistant coach Bob Ledbetter and former star running back Doug Kotar. Four players were nonetheless named to the Pro Bowl again—Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Mark Haynes and rookie place-kicker Ali Haji-Sheikh who set an alltime NFL record with 35 field goals during the year.

1984—With Phil Simms enjoying his first full season at quarterback, the Giants won the NFC wild card playoff spot again, finishing with a 9-7 mark and second-place in the NFC East as Simms set three alltime single season club records with 286 completions in 533 attempts for 4,044 yards. The Giants knocked off the Los Angeles Rams 16-13 in that wild card game, then bowed to the eventual Super Bowl champion San

San Francisco 49ers 21-10 in the divisional playoff. Taylor, Carson and Haynes were again named to the Pro Bowl, while head coach Bill Parcells was named NFC East Coach of the Year and five rookies—Karl Nelson, Gary Reasons, Carl Banks, Perry Williams and Bobby Johnson—were named to the All-NFL Rookie team.

1985—With a final 10-6 mark, the Giants put back-to-back winning seasons on the board for the first time in 22 years, won another trip to the playoffs and had their first home playoff game since 1962, winning 17-3 over the defending Super Bowl champion 49ers. Again, the club lost in the Divisional playoffs to the eventual Super Bowl champion team, the Chicago Bears, by a 21-0 score, the toughest outing the Bears encountered in the entire playoffs. Five players—Taylor, Carson, Phil Simms, Joe Morris and Leonard Marshall—were named to the Pro Bowl. All told, there were 12 team records set by this club, and 16 individual club records. Morris set an alltime one season rushing mark with 1,336 yards plus an alltime mark for TDs in a season with 21 while Simms broke alltime club records with 40 completions in a game for 513 yards passing. Marshall added another club mark with 15½ QB sacks in a season, while rookie TE Mark Bavaro, an All-NFL Rookie team choice set a club mark with 12 receptions in one game.

1986—The club's first Super Bowl championship, an alltime final record of 17-2, as well as a club record 12 straight victories, made this year the greatest in team history. The Giants also set an alltime composite margin of victory in the playoffs, outscoring three opponents 105-23, for an 82-point domination, the most ever in NFL playoff history. Phil Simms was the MVP of the Super Bowl victory with an NFL alltime playoff mark of 88% passing accuracy with his 22-for-25 passing in the 39-20 title conquest of the Denver Broncos. Lawrence Taylor was named the league's MVP, Joe Morris broke his own club rushing record with 1,516 yards, and eight players—Taylor, Morris, Harry Carson, Leonard Marshall, Jim Burt, Brad Benson, Mark Bavaro and Sean Landeta—were named to the Pro Bowl. Coach Bill Parcells was a unanimous NFL Coach of the Year in all the national polls, the Giants were 10-0 at home, including regular season and the two playoff games, and alltime attendance records were set for both home and away, as well as single game home attendance.

Giants played one season at Shea Stadium (1975).

STAFF BIOGRAPHIES

GEORGE YOUNG

Vice President, General Manager

When George Young was named General Manager of the Giants on February 14, 1979 at a press conference at Gallagher's Restaurant in New York City, there was no special significance attached to the date—Valentine's Day—at that time. Over the ensuing years, however, that date is now considered to be a very special red-letter day in club history.

Prior to George's stewardship, the Giants had not been in NFL post-season play since the 1963 season, a 15-year famine. Since he instituted his reconstruction policies, the Giants have now won the Super Bowl, been to the NFL Playoffs four times, including three straight trips in 1984-85-86, reaching the Division playoffs in each of the four playoff years, in addition to winning the NFC Championship and Super Bowl title. The club also just missed a fifth playoff season in the final week of the strike-shortened 1982 campaign. The Giants' back-to-back winning playoff seasons in '84 and '85 also marked the first time that the club had achieved consecutive such years in 22 seasons. In building the team, Young has placed special emphasis on the NFL Draft. From his inaugural draft in 1979 through the 1986 selection process, Young had succeeded in signing every player drafted over that span, and from those eight drafts, a total of 59 of those players made the club at one time or another. From that total, 31 of those drafted players remain with the team on the current roster, and 19 of those have been starters at one time or another. The list also includes Pro Bowlers Lawrence Taylor, Phil Simms, Joe Morris, Leonard Marshall, and Mark Bavaro. Over that same span, 15 of those drafted players were named to the All-NFL Rookie team. Young's sagacity in signing free agents has also been a powerful part of his organizational talents. Seven more starters are free agents signed under Young—Bobby Johnson, Bart Oates, Maurice Carthon, Chris Godfrey, Jim Burt, Elvis Patterson and Sean Landeta, and both Burt and Landeta have been Pro Bowlers. Young's efforts have won him prestigious awards in both 1984 and 1986 when he was voted NFL Executive of the Year by the Sporting News in a poll of NFL executives. Prior to being named by the Giants, George had spent 11 years in the NFL with the Baltimore Colts and Miami Dolphins. During his tenure with those two clubs, Young had been closely associated with Don Shula at both franchises and had served in a variety of capacities. He was initially brought into the Colts' organization in 1968 by Shula as an assistant in the Personnel Department, then two years later was named offensive line coach, with that Colts' team going all the way to the Super Bowl and scoring a 16-13 win over the Dallas Cowboys. In 1971, George was named Director of Player Personnel and then in 1973 was named Offensive Coordinator of the Colts by Howard Schnellenberger. A year later, Young rejoined Shula with the Miami Dolphins and was Director of Personnel and Pro Scouting with the Dolphins when the Giants named him in 1979. George Bernard Young was born on September 22, 1930 in Baltimore, Md., and was an outstanding football player at Calvert Hall High School in Baltimore. He went on to Bucknell University where he was a starting defensive tackle for three seasons, team captain in 1951 and was named to the Little All-American first team and All-East first team in his senior year. Selected to play in the Blue-Gray game, he was then drafted by the Dallas Texans and played in professional football for one year. George then began a coaching career in the Baltimore school system at Calvert Hall and City College High School and over a 15-year span, won six Maryland state championships and had a 60-12 record during one span. Additionally, Young was an educator while coaching in Baltimore, teaching History and Political Science. During that teaching career, George also earned two Masters degrees from Johns Hopkins University and Loyola College. He was further honored this past May 23 when he was awarded an honorary Doctorate in Humane Letters from Western Maryland College. George and his wife, Mary Love, reside in Upper Saddle River, N.J.

BILL PARCELLS

Head Coach

By leading the Giants to their first Super Bowl championship in club history and to their greatest single season record ever at 17-2, Bill Parcells won every major poll in the country as NFL Coach of the Year, a fitting tribute for the spectacular season he had masterminded. Along the way, the Giants set an alltime club record by winning 12 games in succession, then set an alltime NFL and Super Bowl playoff record for cumulative margin of victory in the three playoff games. By defeating San Francisco 49-3, Washington 17-0, and Denver 39-20 in the playoff, NFC Championship game and Super Bowl, the Giants' 102-23 cumulative scoring set an alltime playoff mark of 82-plus points in composite margin of victory. Since a 3-12-1 record in his rookie coaching season of 1983, Parcells has since taken the Giants to three consecutive playoff seasons, and led the club to a 38-17 mark over that span for a 70% winning mark. By leading the Giants to consecutive winning seasons, playoff appearances and the Divisional playoffs in 1984-85, Parcells also became the first Giants' head coach in 22 years to achieve that kind of back-to-back success. Additionally, the Giants' 10-6 finish in 1985 was the first double digit victory campaign since 1963 and also presented Giant fans with their first home playoff appearance since 1962 and the resulting 17-3 triumph over the defending Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers provided double satisfaction. Named as the 12th head coach in club history on December 15, 1982 after the resignation of Ray Perkins, Parcells endured a highly traumatic first season as the head man. After a 2-2 start that season, a maddening rash of injuries hit the club, with no less than 25 players hitting the Injured Reserve list at one time or another, including eight starters. The team also had the double misfortune of leading the NFL in turnovers with a staggering total of 58, and in addition to those never-ending problems, Parcells also had to endure the sudden death of backfield coach Bob Ledbetter during the season, followed by the passing of former running back Doug Kotar and the deaths of both of his parents within six weeks of each other late in the season. There has probably been no tougher year for a rookie head coach to endure than that 1983 season for Parcells. By sheer determination and resolve, Parcells blocked all of the bleakness of that first year out and in the off-season following that near-disastrous inaugural began working diligently to bring respectability back to the club. In 1984, as a second-year head coach, Parcells went to pre-season training camp with a strong determination to turn things around. He put particular stress on reducing injuries through a new strength coach and conditioning program, and in the area of reducing turnovers and penalties. He not only achieved success in all of those areas, with the number of players on Injured Reserve dropping from 25 to seven, but in reducing the turnover total from 58 down to 27 and penalties from 113 to 1,020 yards down to 79 for 703 yards. With this new resolve, Parcells piloted the club to a fine start at 3-1, then engineered back-to-back clutch victories over the Redskins and Cowboys and had his club, which finished last in the NFC East in 1983, deadlocked for the top spot late in the year with a 9-5 record. The Giants eventually finished at 9-7, won the Wild Card playoff spot as the second-place finisher in the NFC East to the Redskins, and scored an impressive Playoff victory over the Los Angeles Rams 16-13, before bowing to the eventual Super Bowl champion

San Francisco 49ers 21-10 in the Niners' toughest test in all of the post-season action. For his efforts, Parcells finished second in two major NFL Coach of the Year polls, to the 49ers' Bill Walsh in one poll and to Seattle's Chuck Knox in another. Additionally, he was named NFC East Coach of the Year by Pro Magazine. Born in Englewood, N.J. on August 22, 1941, Parcells played his scholastic football at River Dell H.S. in Oradell, N.J., then went on to Wichita State University where he was an All-Missouri Valley Conference selection twice as a linebacker. In one game vs. Tulsa University, Bill had 20 solo tackles and six QB sacks, and also played in the Sun Bowl, Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl games. He was drafted No. 7 by the Detroit Lions, but opted for an immediate start in the coaching field by accepting a job at Hastings College in Nebraska. A year later, he returned to Wichita State as an assistant defensive coach, then moved on to West Point where he was an assistant coach for Army for three seasons. He then made subsequent stops as a defensive coordinator for Florida State (three years), Vanderbilt (two seasons) and Texas Tech (three seasons) and was then named Head Coach at the Air Force Academy in 1978. Parcells then accepted a defensive job with the Giants in early 1979, but resigned for personal reasons to enter private business. Then in 1980, he joined the New England Patriots as linebacker's coach, and in 1981 returned to the Giants as defensive coordinator. His presence created almost instant improvement. From a 4-12 record in 1980 when the club allowed 425 points to the opposition, Parcells installed the 3-4 defense, revamped the secondary and produced a defensive team which finished the year ranked No. 3 in the entire NFL after being No. 25 the previous season, reducing the points allowed total from the previously mentioned 425 down to 257. The unit also led the entire NFL in two key categories—lowest average-per-rush (3.4) allowed and lowest average-per-play (4.2) allowed. The Giants finished 9-7, made the playoffs for the second time since 1963, upended Philadelphia in the playoffs with more tough defense before bowing to the eventual Super Bowl champion 49ers. A Giants' fan all of his life while growing up in New Jersey, the 6-3, 220-pound Parcells and his wife, Judy, have three daughters—Suzy, Jill and Dallas—and live in Upper Saddle River, N.J.

INSTANT REPLAY APPROVED FOR 1987

For the second year in a row, NFL clubs have approved a limited system of Instant Replay on a one-year basis.

The system basically stays the same as in 1986 with the exception that larger monitors will be used by Replay Officials. In 1986, there were 374 plays closely reviewed (defined as a contact to the field, but not necessarily stoppage of play). There were 38 reversals for an average of one reversal in each six games. There were three other rulings (clarification of rules) by Replay Officials.

In 1986, the system was approved by a 23-4-1 vote. In 1987, the vote was 21-7.

The NFL has discussed Instant Replay in some degree or other since the early 1970s. The League experimented in 1976 and 1978 using two basic frameworks—an independent system using cameras, replay machines, and technicians separate from the network covering the game, and a “no frills” approach using existing television coverage.

In 1985, the NFL used the network feed of nine nationally televised preseason games to experiment with the basic system that later was adopted for 1986 and 1987. A total of 28 plays were examined closely in 1985 (17 confirmed call, 4 were inconclusive, 1 was reversed, and 6 had no replay shown).

What is the objective of this system?

The clubs feel that on certain plays the telecast viewed by the general public should be used to correct an indisputable error. The system will be used to reverse an on-field decision only when the Replay Official has indisputable visual evidence available to him that warrants the change.

Is the television network carrying the game part of the review process?

No. Although the Replay Official will be viewing the live network feed, there is no communication to television personnel as to what plays to show or not to show.

What is the step-by-step procedure of play review?

The Replay Official will view game action and a play will be replayed immediately on one of the two monitors, while the other monitor continues to record the live feed.

The Replay Official makes a determination if further study of the play is needed. If not, there is no contact with the field and play continues without interruption.

If the Replay Official believes an error may have been made, the Umpire will be contacted via a headset.

The Replay Official will watch replay(s) on one or both monitors and complete his review within a reasonable period after the play is over.

The Replay Official will inform the Umpire of his decision, and the Referee will make the appropriate announcement on the wireless microphone.

The limited Instant Replay system concentrates on plays of possession or touching (e.g., fumbles, receptions, interceptions, muffs) and most plays governed by the sidelines, goal lines, end lines, and line of scrimmage (e.g., receiver or runner in or out of bounds, forward or backward passes, breaking the plane of the goal line).

However, the Instant Replay system will not include the following fouls: clipping; encroachment and offsides; grasp of facemask; false start; defensive pass interference; offensive pass interference; offensive holding and illegal use of hands; illegal batting or punching ball; illegal block on free kick or scrimmage kick; illegal crackback; illegal motion; illegal use of forearm or elbow; illegal use of hands by defense; illegally kicking the ball; illegally snapping the ball; intentional grounding; member of the punting team downfield early; illegal formation; palpably unfair act; piling on; roughing the passer; running into or roughing the kicker; striking, kicking, or kneeing; unnecessary roughness; unsportsmanlike conduct; and use of the helmet as a weapon.

GEORGE ADAMS

Kentucky 12/22/62

D-1 '85 3rd Year

PRO: One of the biggest losses the Giants had to endure in 1986 was the absence for the entire season of Adams, who suffered a chipped pelvic bone in pre-season camp, and was on injured reserve for the entire season. Completely recovered now, Adams should add considerable firepower to the offensive backfield. First-round draft choice had a highly productive year in his rookie season, appearing in all 16 regular season games as well as the playoffs, and finishing that first season with a total of 1,128 all-purpose yards on offense. Adams proved he had the talent from the start of pre-season training camp and finished as the club's leading rusher in a final 5-0 pre-season slate. Used exclusively as a reserve during the regular campaign, George nonetheless finished as the second leading rusher with 498 yards and a 3.9 average... was the leading receiver among the RBs with 31 grabs for 389 yards, including a 70-yard TD catch vs. Dallas... and led the club in kickoff returns with 241 yards, while scoring a total of four TDs overall. He had his best rushing day vs. St. Louis when he came on in relief of Joe Morris and rushed for 113 yards to pace a 34-3 triumph. Also made a big contribution in win over New Orleans when he alternated with Morris and had 89 yards rushing and a 5.3 average. GAMES PLAYED: 0, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: A four-year letterman at Kentucky, George was a unanimous All-South-eastern Conference choice, MVP in the 1984 Hall of Fame Bowl, and set five alltime Kentucky records, including 4,205 all-purpose yards in his career. As a senior, he set four standards—most rushing attempts, 253; most TDs, 14; most total points, 84; and most rushing TDs, 14, as he rushed for 1,117 yards. Final career rushing total was 2,717 yards, while adding 83 receptions and 847 yards on kickoff returns. Selected for both the Senior Bowl and Hula Bowl after his senior season.

PERSONAL: George W. Adams was born on December 22, 1962 in Lexington, Ky., and was an All-American scholastic player in football and All-State in basketball at Lafayette H.S. in his hometown. As a youngster, he was also a fine Little League baseball player and still roots for the New York Mets. George and his wife, Lynn, have a son, DeAndor.

PRO: Allegre was originally signed as a FA by the Dallas Cowboys in 1983, but was traded for a 9th round draft choice to the Indianapolis Colts that same pre-season. The regular kicker for the Colts from 1983-85, Raul was released during the 1986 training camp and was subsequently signed by the Giants as a free agent in late September. Despite missing the first three games of the year, Raul had an outstanding season for the Giants, leading the club in scoring with 105 points on 33-for-33 in PATs and 24-for-32 in FGs, and winning honorable mention All-NFL from the Associated Press at season's end. Along the way, Allegre's field goals were the winning points in six victories, and in two of those contests, his last-second FGs downed Minnesota 22-20 and Denver 19-16 in successive games. Allegre kicked five field goals in the win over the Vikings, then added four more the following week in the victory vs. the Broncos. He was 2-for-2 in FG attempts in the playoffs, and after hitting 46 conversions in a row during the season, missed the 47th attempt after the final Giants' TD in the Super Bowl triumph. In his rookie season with the Colts in '83, Allegre had a sizzling season with 30-of-35 FG attempts, including 4-of-5 from 50 yards and longer. His three-year totals with the Colts showed 57-of-79 FG attempts for a .722 percentage, and 72-of-77 PAT attempts for a total of 243 points. GAMES PLAYED: 13.

24 OTTIS ANDERSON

Running Back Miami (Fla.) 11/19/57
6-2 225 T-'86 (St. Lou.) 9th Year

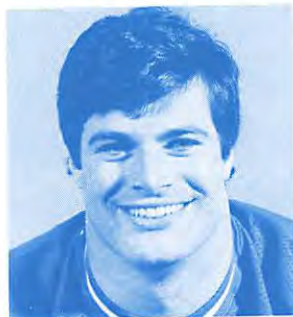

PRO: Former Pro Bowl and All-NFL running back was obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals in a trade for draft choices on October 7, 1986, and appeared in eight games for the Giants during the regular season, as well as in the playoffs and Super Bowl. In his first game with the Giants, on October 12 vs. the Eagles, Anderson rushed for 32 yards on seven carries, but pulled a hamstring on a 16-yard sweep and was hobbled somewhat thereafter. He finished the season with 81 yards rushing on 24 carries for the Giants, including the go-ahead one-yard TD dive in the 21-17 win over the San Francisco 49ers, then put the cap on the Giants' 39-20 Super Bowl triumph over Denver with a 2-yard blast for the last Giant touchdown. Anderson now has 8,082 career rushing yards to rank third among active rushers behind Walter Payton of the Bears and Tony Dorsett of the Cowboys, and that total also ranks him No. 10 on the NFL's alltime rushing list. The Cardinals No. 1 draft choice in 1979, O.J. had one of the most dynamic pro debuts in NFL history when he rushed for 193 yards on 21 carries in his first NFL game vs. Dallas. He went on to win Rookie of the Year honors that season, as well as being named to the Pro Bowl and All-NFL with a 1,605-yards rushing rookie season. He added four more 1,000-yard rushing seasons in 1980-81-83-84 before missing seven games in 1985 with assorted injuries. He owns all of the Cardinals' rushing records, both for season and career. He also took part in the Giants' off-season work program this past off-season, and should be primed for a return to his old form in 1987. GAMES PLAYED: 8, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Anderson broke Chuck Foreman's career rushing records at the University of Miami, setting a Miami season record with 1,266 yards rushing in his senior year—the first Hurricane ever to surpass the 1,000-yard rushing mark in one season. He was a first-team All-American selection by both the Sporting News and Football Coaches Association.

PERSONAL: Ottis Jerome Anderson was born in West Palm Beach, Fla., and was a scholastic standout at Forest Hill High School in his hometown. With a degree in physical education from Miami, Ottis and his wife, Wanda, reside in Creve Coeur, Mo. during the off-seasons.

BILLY ARD

PRO: Save for a knee injury which sidelined him for one game in 1984, Ard has a string of 83 consecutive games as the starting LG, dating back to his rookie season when he won the starter's job late in that season. Strong and durable, he has improved yearly and now ranks as one of the top guards in the NFC.

This past season, Ard had perhaps his best year ever, winning honorable mention All-NFL from the Associated Press and finishing as a Pro Bowl alternate. As a rookie, Ard won himself a roster spot as a reserve, but his constant improvement won him the starting job in the second half of the season, and he had some solid games, particularly against Cowboy All-Pro Randy White and earned All-NFL Rookie honors that year. A devotee of the off-season work program, he's built himself up from his rookie weight of 255 to his current 270 pounds. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Ard lettered for four seasons at Wake Forest and capped his collegiate career by being named first-team All-American by both the Sporting News and Pro

Billy Ard

Football Weekly, while also winning first-team All ACC honors and honorable mention All-American by both AP and UPI. Also won the Bill George Award at Wake Forest as the school's MVP lineman. Selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Senior Bowl after his senior year.

PERSONAL: William Donovan Ard was born on March 12, 1959 in East Orange, N.J., then played his scholastic football at Watchung Hills Regional H.S. in Watchung, N.J. Ard's dad, Bill Sr., has been a Giant's season ticket holder for 20 years, and there were plenty of Ard fans at that 1981 college draft, considering a sign which appeared in the balcony during the selections which read, "Let Ard be your Guard."

CARL BANKS

Michigan State

8/29/62

PRO: Banks was a powerhouse performer all season long in 1986, and was ranked among the top three linebackers in the NFL by Dallas coach Tom Landry. Yet despite the fact that he might have well been the club's best defensive player during the second half of the season, Banks won little post-season acclaim, getting an honorable mention

All-NFL from the AP and a Pro Bowl alternate spot. In his first full season as a 16-game starter, Carl led the team in total tackles with 120; had 6½ quarterback sacks; two forced fumbles, and two fumble returns for five yards, then led the club in the playoffs as well with 26 total tackles and a fumble recovery while recording 10 solo stops in the Super Bowl triumph. The Giants' No. 1 draft choice in 1984, Banks made considerable contributions to the defense in his rookie season, appearing in all 16 regular season games, and as a starter at LOLB four games, as well as in both of the playoff games. In 1985, Banks won the starting job at OLB, then suffered a sprained knee and was out of action for a month. Prior to that injury, he had recorded three QB sacks and recovered a fumble and performed with gusto. After his return, he saw action in all of the remaining games, concluding the season with a total of 31 tackles, then adding nine more tackles in the playoff games. Carl had an auspicious debut as a rookie starter, winning Sports Illustrated's Defensive Player of the Week honors after registering 10 solo tackles, two QB sacks and a fumble recovery in a 19-7 victory over Atlanta. All told, Banks finished that season with 39 total tackles, added three QB sacks, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble, and also played well on special teams. As a starter in the two playoff games, he added seven tackles, and set the tone on defense in the playoff win over the Los Angeles Rams by throwing Eric Dickerson for a four-yard loss on the Rams' first rushing attempt of the day. Banks was named to the All-NFL Rookie team at season's end by UPI, Pro Football Weekly, the Pro Football Writers Association and Football Digest.

GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Banks was a consensus All-American in his senior year at Michigan State and was only the ninth player in the 87-year history of the Big 10 to earn All-Conference first-team honors for three straight seasons. Carl won a starting job late in his freshman season, then played in 43 of 44 games thereafter, finishing his career with 279 tackles—the third highest total in Spartan history. He added two interceptions, four fumble recoveries, and eight pass deflections and was named to play in the Senior Bowl, Blue-

Carl Banks

Mark Bavaro

Gray Game and Hula Bowl. Banks was co-captain in both his junior and senior years and was named Michigan State's MVP and Governor's Award winner in his senior season.

PERSONAL: Carl Banks was born on August 29, 1962 in Flint, Mich., and was a fine student-athlete at Beecher High School in his hometown, winning All-State honors in football as well as All-State honorable mention in basketball. He was also a shot-putter on the track team which finished third in the state championships. He was also elected vice-president of the student government in high school, and was a Communications major at Michigan State.

PRO: Bavaro had a vintage year in 1986, setting alltime club records in receiving for tight ends, while winning unanimous All-NFL honors and a Pro Bowl starting job as well. In ascending to a position as perhaps the best tight end in pro football, the second-year marvel caught 66 passes for 1,001 yards—both club marks for a TE—and continued to block like a 275-pound tackle. He was also the club's leading receiver in the playoffs with eight catches, and had TD grabs vs. the 49ers and vs. the Broncos in the Super Bowl. The powerful one had any number of big games, including six catches for 106 yards vs. the Raiders; seven for 110 vs. the Saints, and five for 111 in the big Dec. 7 win over Washington, but perhaps his most notable grab was a 10-yarder in the Monday Night win over the 49ers where he carried four 49er tacklers another 20 yards on his back for an eventual 31-yard gain. Mark enjoyed a powerful first season with the Giants after being faced with the challenge of moving up to the starting TE position when incumbent starter Zeke Mowatt went down with a major knee injury during the pre-season and was out for the year. After a strong pre-season performance in which he finished second to Mowatt in receiving, Bavaro was a powerhouse blocker and receiver all season long and through the playoffs and was a unanimous All-NFL Rookie selection at season's end. Along the way, Bavaro finished as the second leading receiver on the club with 37 receptions for 511 yards and four TDs and set an alltime club record by catching 12 passes for 176 yards against the Cincinnati Bengals. In two particular victories—against the Eagles and Redskins—he had the key touchdown grabs. Bavaro was also the club's leading receiver in the playoffs with nine receptions for 103 yards and it was his spectacular one-handed grab of an 18-yard TD pass that set the pace in the Giants' 17-3 wild card victory over the defending champion 49ers. In addition to his pass receiving, Bavaro was a ferocious blocker who had much to do with the Giants setting an alltime club record for rushing yards in a season. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Mark was an All-American selection in his senior season at Notre Dame and was also voted the Offensive MVP by Notre Dame players after a year in which he had 32 receptions for 395 yards. Bavaro was the starting TE for two seasons at ND after sitting out the entire '82 season with a broken hand. He appeared in the Liberty Bowl and Aloha Bowl games with the Irish and was also chosen to play in the Hula Bowl after his senior season.

PERSONAL: Mark Anthony Bavaro was born in East Boston, Mass. on April 28, 1963, and was an all-around scholastic star at Danvers High School in Danvers, Mass. He was an All-American selection in football, won four letters in track as a high jumper, hurdler and triple jumper and won a bronze medal at 15 in a national scholastic track event in Los Angeles. Mark was married to the former Susan Downes this past off-season, and he also visited many parts of the country as National Chairman of a March of Dimes fund-raising program.

60BRAD BENSON*Tackle*Penn State*11/25/55*6-3*270*FA '77*10th Year

PRO: Benson achieved long-overdue recognition in 1986, winning Pro Bowl honors for the first time in his career, and being named to the All-NFL second team as well by the Associated Press. Matched against some of the top defensive ends in the league, Brad more than held his own in '86, and in three confrontations with Redskin Pro Bowl DE Dexter Manley, performed at maximum performance, particularly in the first-place battle on Dec. 7 in Washington when Brad's powerful one-on-one work neutralized Manley and won Benson the NFL's Offensive Player of the Week award—the first time that an offensive lineman had ever won that weekly award. Veteran offensive lineman now has a string of 80 consecutive games as a starter, either at LT or at both guard positions, such has been his versatility. Most of those starts were at tackle, but in '84, he moved over to RG as a starter, then back to LT when rookie William Roberts was injured. He then moved to LG when Billy Ard was injured late in the year, thus giving Benson starting jobs at three different spots during 1984. In 1985, when Roberts went down for the entire season with a knee injury, Benson was back at LT again and started for the entire season, contributing strongly as the club set a new all-time one-season rushing record, and again proving his long-standing versatility. Graded out as the most productive lineman as the LT in 1983. Originally a 7th round draft pick of the New England Patriots in 1977, Brad was signed as a FA by the Giants later that year after being released by the Pats, and was active for five games, although he did not play. In 1978, however, he appeared in all 16 games as both a guard and tackle and thus began his career of versatility. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Benson was a three-year starter at Penn State and offensive captain in his senior year under coach Joe Paterno, winning All-East first team honors as well as honorable mention All-America in both his junior and senior years. Selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl after his senior season, Brad also won varsity letters in wrestling for two seasons in the unlimited division.

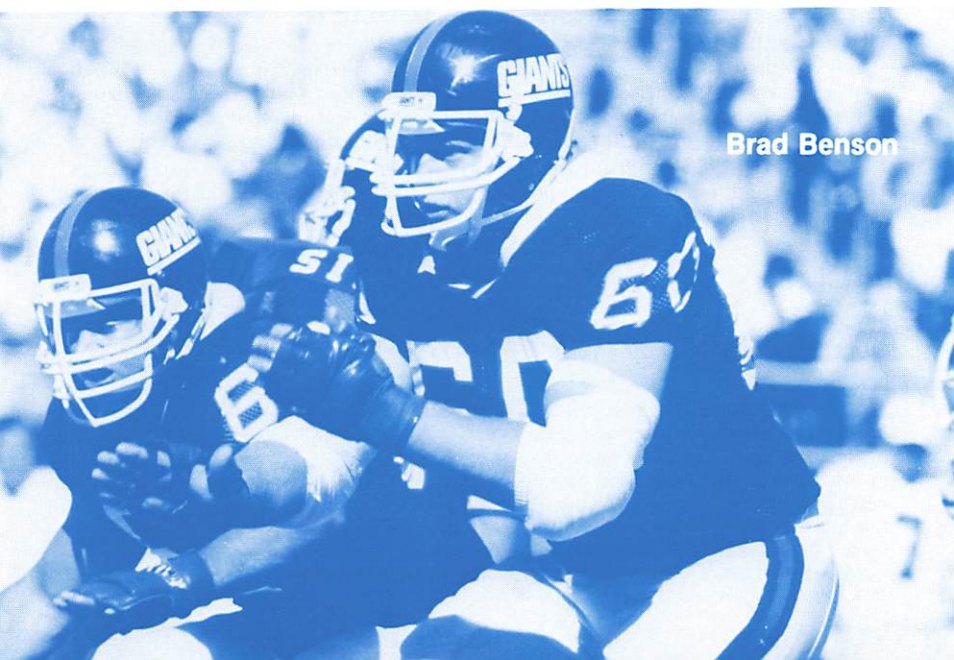

PERSONAL: Bradley William Benson was born in Altoona, Pa., on November 25, 1955, and in addition to winning football honors at Altoona H.S., was the Pennsylvania state heavyweight wrestling champion, and also won letters in baseball. Brad lists his favorite hobbies as snowmobile racing, hunting and water skiing, and he's also a dog fancier.

64JIM BURT*Defensive Tackle*Miami*6/7/59*6-1*260*FA '81*7th Year

PRO: Burt enjoyed the most productive season of his career in 1986, despite missing three games late in the season because of a back problem. Playing in just those 13 regular season outings, Burt led all defensive linemen in total tackles with 61, had three fumble recoveries to share the club lead, added a forced fumble and had a QB sack, with that powerful all-around showing bringing him his first Pro Bowl selection as well as a berth on

Jim Burt

Brad Benson

Pro Football Weekly's All-NFL team. Jim was also named to the "All-Madden" team for the second straight year, an honor he particularly cherishes since CBS-TV's John Madden picks that squad personally. Burt was back for the playoffs and Super Bowl, adding 10 total tackles in those games, and endearing himself to Giant fans by climbing into the stands to celebrate those playoff wins with the fans. Back to back healthy seasons helped vault Burt into prominence as one of the top nose tackles in the NFC. He topped all of the defensive linemen on the club in total tackles in '85 with 78, added four QB sacks, a pair of fumble recoveries, and then had a big performance in the wild card playoff win over the 49ers with six tackles and a pair of QB sacks on Joe Montana. After three seasons of sporadic duty, initially as a reserve, and then, after winning a starting job at nose tackle and going down with a herniated disc which laid him low for half of the 1983 season, Burt finally had a full and healthy season in 1984. That being the case, he started all 16 regular season and both playoff games and was a powerful force on the defense, leading the down linemen in total tackles with 90, and adding 6½ QB sacks and a pair of fumble recoveries. In the playoffs, he added 12 more tackles and a QB sack and played with intensity from start to finish. For his efforts, he was rewarded with an All-NFL berth by Sports Illustrated. One of the strongest and most aggressive players on the defense, Burt showed that tenacity from his first training camp in 1981 after being signed as a free agent. With a Kamikazee-type approach to the game, he made the club as a reserve DT and special teams' player, registering 20 tackles as the leader of the specials. In the truncated '82 season, he had two starts at nose tackle, getting 17 tackles and his first QB sack, then won the starting job in '83, only to go down with the back injury after seven games in which he had 35 tackles and a fumble recovery.

GAMES PLAYED: 13, STARTED: 13.

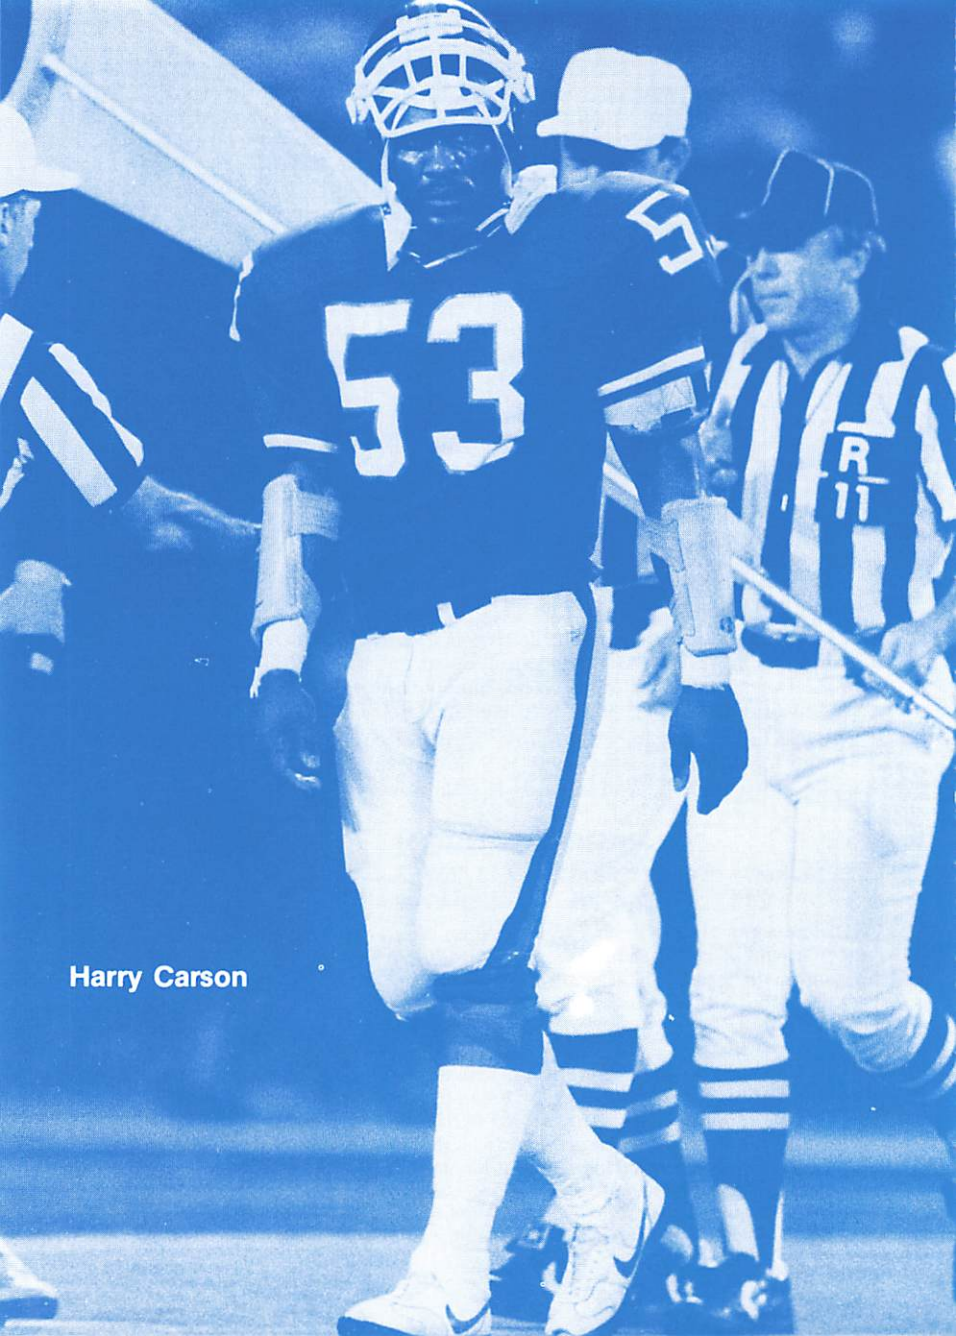

COLLEGE: Jim won four varsity letters as a defensive tackle at the University of Miami, winning several All-American designations in his senior year, and winning national Defensive Player of the Week honors from Sports Illustrated after he had caused five fumbles in one game with big hits.

PERSONAL: James P. Burt was born on June 7, 1959 in Buffalo, N.Y. and played his scholastic football at Orchard Park H.S. just next door to the Buffalo Bills' Rich Stadium. Burt resides in Waldwick, N.J. with his wife, Colleen, and one son, Jimmy.

53 HARRY CARSON
Linebacker So. Carolina St. 11/26/53
6-3 245 D-4'76 12th Year

PRO: The senior Giants' linebacker had yet another banner season in 1986, earning his eighth Pro Bowl designation in the past nine seasons, while also being named to the All-NFL team for an eighth time, with Pro Football Weekly and Football News doing the honors this time. The powerhouse inside linebacker started every game again, finishing second in total tackles with 118 in the regular season, and with 23 in the playoffs and Super Bowl. He added his ninth career interception, this one a 20-yard return in the big Dec. 7 win over the Redskins, had two QB sacks, two fumble recoveries and two forced fumbles, and showed his overall athletic prowess by catching a 13-yard TD pass on a fake field goal in a win over the Eagles. That was Harry's third career TD. His first came on a 22-yard fumble return for the winning score vs. Kansas City in 1979, and the other on a 14-yard interception return against Joe Montana in the 1984 Divisional championship game vs. the 49ers. He also tied an alltime club record by recovering two fumbles in one game, this time vs. Dallas. As usual, Harry had his top performances in key games, recording 13 tackles in the 17-14 win over Dallas that kept the Giants in first-place, and adding 12 tackles to his interception in the Dec. 7 win over the Redskins that virtually assured the Giants the NFC East title. Carson also made the big play on the Giants' first-half goal line stand vs. Denver in the Super Bowl when he stacked up Gerald Willhite for no gain. In 1985 Harry finished second in total tackles on the club with 101, just three behind fellow All-Pro Lawrence Taylor, and he added 22 tackles in the two playoff games, including 14 vs. the Super Bowl champion Chicago Bears. Over the years, Harry has had any number of outstanding seasons, including the 1979 campaign when he had 185 total tackles for the season. A defensive end in college, Carson was moved to LB in his rookie year with the Giants, won the starting MLB job halfway through that rookie season, and was named to the all-NFL Rookie team in 1976. Since that time, he's led the club in tackles five seasons, and had his single biggest harvest in a 1982 Monday Night game vs. Green Bay when he racked up an incredible 25 stops (20 solo, 5 assists). In addition to being named to the Pro Bowl eight times in his career, Carson has also been named the NFL's top inside LB in 1980 by Sports Illustrated and was named as the NFC's Linebacker of the Year that same season by the NFL Players' Association. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Carson never missed a game in four seasons at South Carolina State, was team captain for two years, senior class president, and won Kodak All-American honors as well as Little All-American by AP. Twice MVP of the Mid-East Conference, he had 114 solo tackles, 41 assists and 30 QB sacks in his senior year. Additionally, he was an ROTC Commander in college and won the Eastern Airlines Award for highest academic average among Black College All-Americans.

PERSONAL: Harry Donald Carson was born on November 26, 1953 in Florence, S.C. and starred at McClenaghan H.S. in all sports, as well as serving as senior class president. Harry has five brothers and sisters, and a brother, Edgar, is a minister. Harry lists music, fishing and target shooting as his principal interests, and he's also a devotee of daytime soap operas on television. In 1979, he appeared on the ABC-TV soap, "One Life To Live." He was also the Giants' representative on the 1985 nationally televised United Way public service commercials. In addition to being an All-Pro and a leader both on and off the field, the articulate Carson is currently nearing the earning of a Master's degree in Business and is the author of an autobiography titled "Point Of Attack" which was published this past year. Harry also does a daily radio report on WNEW-AM during the season.

MAURICE CARTHON

Running Back Arkansas State 4/24/61
6-1 225 FA- '85 3rd Year

PRO: Carthon has been an integral part of the Giants' offense for the past two seasons, although his name is rarely in the headlines. He finished as the Giants' No. 2 rusher this past year with 260 yards and a 3.6 average, while adding 16 pass receptions, then added 49 yards rushing and eight more catches in the playoffs. While he has fine running and receiving ability, Carthon's forte is blocking, and there isn't a better blocking back in football. During the past two seasons in which he's been the fullback, Carthon's ferocious blocks have had more than a little to do with the 1,000-plus rushing seasons enjoyed by Joe Morris, and his pass-blocking has been equally as powerful. Maurice had a busy year in 1985, first playing an entire season in the USFL, then coming to the Giants where he played in all 16 regular season games, half of those as the starting fullback. He had just 27 rushing attempts for 70 yards and added eight pass receptions for 81 yards, but that powerhouse blocking on sweeps had considerable impact on the Giants setting a one-season alltime club record for rushing yardage. Carthon was signed as a free agent just prior to training camp after spending three seasons as the starting fullback for the New Jersey Generals of the USFL. A superb blocker for those three years, Maurice also proved that he was equally as talented as a running back when given the opportunity, rushing for 1,042 yards on 238 trips for a 4.4 average and 11 rushing touchdowns in the 1983 season. That followed his rookie season harvest of 334 yards and a 3.7 average when he had but 90 carries. All told, he had more than 2,000 yards rushing in his three campaigns, a 4.2 rushing average and 20 rushing TDs, while adding more than 60 pass receptions in addition to that solid blocking prowess. He was an 8th round draft choice by the Generals in the '83 USFL draft. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Maurice was a four-year letter winner at Arkansas State, and was twice named to the All-Southland Conference team, leading his club in rushing in his senior year with 682 yards. He began his collegiate career as a tight end as a freshman, then was switched to fullback in his sophomore year.

PERSONAL: Maurice Carthon was born in Chicago, Ill., on April 24, 1961, then played his scholastic sports at Osceola High School in Osceola, Ark., where he starred in football and basketball, winning state MVP honors in basketball and All-Conference honors in football.

25*MARK COLLINS*Cornerback Cal State-Fullerton 1/16/64*5-10 190 D-2 '86 2nd Year

PRO: A solid contributor from the start of training camp in his rookie season, Mark proved to be a valuable addition to the club. He first attracted attention when he returned a kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown in a pre-season victory over the New York Jets, then became the starting left cornerback when Elvis Patterson went down with a groin injury.

Collins performed extremely well as the starter for nine games and by season's end was named to the All-NFL Rookie team by Pro Football Weekly. He finished as the second leading tackler in the secondary with a total of 60 tackles, added one interception, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery, and also did some double duty as a return man, with 11 kickoff returns for 204 yards and an 18.5 average, and three punt returns for 11 yards. He also displayed one of the season's great hustle plays when he raced 80 yards upfield on George Martin's 78-yard interception return vs. Denver to make the final block to spring Martin into the end zone. He added eight tackles in the playoffs.

GAMES PLAYED: 15, STARTED: 9.

COLLEGE: Collins won four varsity letters at Cal State-Fullerton, and along the way set an alltime school record with 20 career interceptions. He also set a school and Pacific Coast Athletic Association record with four interceptions in one game. He was a first-team All-American by the Sporting News in his senior year, third-team All-American by the Associated Press and a three-time All-PCAA selection as well as the PCAA Defensive Player of the Year in 1985. He was selected to play in three post-season games in that senior year, East-West Shrine, Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl and played well in all three outings. He was also elected team captain in his senior year.

PERSONAL: Mark Anthony Collins was born in St. Louis, Mo., on January 16, 1964, then starred scholastically at Pacific High School in San Bernardino, Calif., where he won 10 varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball and was team captain in all three sports. He also won the Ken Hubbs Memorial Award as the outstanding senior athlete in the San Bernardino-Colton area. Aspires for a career in acting or broadcasting when his playing days are over.

39*TYRONE DAVIS*Cornerback Clemson 12/17/61*6-1 190 D-3 '85 3rd Year

PRO: Davis made the club as a reserve defensive back in his rookie season and appeared in the first eight games of the season as a special teams' player, registering a total of four tackles on kick coverages. He suffered a back injury vs. New Orleans on October 27 and spent the remainder of the year on the injured reserve list. This past season, Davis was again injured during the pre-season, and once again was on IR for the entire year. He took part in the off-season work program, and is expected to be ready for training camp.

Mark Collins

GAMES PLAYED: 0, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Tyrone won four letters at Clemson as a cornerback, and was a starter in his final two seasons there, setting an alltime Clemson one-season record for passes broken up with 15, which erased the former mark of 12 by current Giant safety Terry Kinard. All told, Davis had a total of 136 tackles and eight pass interceptions at Clemson, led his team with four interceptions as a junior and was third in the ACC.

PERSONAL: Joseph Tyrone Davis was born in Athens, Ga. on December 17, 1961 and was an all-around scholastic star at Cedar Shoals High School in Athens, winning All-Conference honors in football, basketball and track. Davis majored in textile technology at Clemson.

Defensive End Notre Dame 8/5/64
6-5 280 D-1 '86 2nd Year

ERIC DORSEY

PRO: Dorsey spent the entire 1986 season as a reserve, appearing in every game, and saw extensive duty in short-yardage situations where he made good use of his outstanding strength and agility. He saw more and more action as the season progressed, and was outstanding in the playoffs and Super Bowl. He had seven total tackles in the playoffs in that reserve role and also registered three quarterback sacks for 32 yards in the three playoff games, getting one each in the wins over the 49ers, Redskins and Broncos. During the regular season, he registered five total tackles, but nonetheless did a solid job in those short-yardage performances. Eric was a steady visitor in the Giants' off-season work program and should be ready to put in a serious bid for the starting job at defensive LE in training camp. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Eric won four varsity letters at Notre Dame as a nose tackle and defensive end and capped his career with the Irish by being named Defensive MVP as well as winning the Hering Trophy as the most improved player on the squad. He also won honorable mention All-American by the AP and Football News and was selected to play in the Blue-Gray game. He led his club with most tackles by a defensive lineman in that year with 87, 15 for losses. He also had three forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries and three QB sacks in that senior campaign.

PERSONAL: Eric Hall Dorsey was born in Washington, D.C. on August 5, 1964 and starred at McLean High School in McLean, Va. where he was an All-American selection in football, All-State in wrestling with a 30-3 record in his senior year, and a record-setting performer in track where he tossed the discus 176'6½" and the shot-put 57'5". The team captain in all three of those sports, Eric hails from an athletic family. His late father, Lawrence Dorsey, was a karate expert and a pitcher in the Chicago Cubs' organization, while three cousins have been collegiate stars—Robbie Hall, a fullback at Army; Rodney Williams, a sprinter at Navy; and Allen Pinkett, a halfback at Notre Dame.

28Safety*6-0*195*Pittsburgh*FA- '86*TOM FLYNN*3/24/62*4th Year

PRO: Veteran safety was signed as a free agent by the Giants in mid-December of last season after Terry Kinard had suffered major knee damage and was lost for the rest of the year. Flynn stepped in as a reserve and special teams' player, and made a big contribution in the victory over his former team, the Green Bay Packers, when he blocked a Packer punt, caught it one-handed and returned it 36 yards for his first NFL touchdown. Flynn also appeared in the playoff games, and recorded three solo tackles in the Super Bowl victory on coverages, as well as covering a free kick after the Giants' safety. He suffered a broken wrist in that Super Bowl win, but took part in the off-season work program and has completely recovered. A 5th round draft choice of the Packers in 1984, Flynn was named to the All-NFL Rookie team after leading the NFC in interceptions with nine for 106 yards returned, and was also named the NFC Defensive Rookie of the Year by Pro Football Weekly. Released by the Packers midway through the '86 season, Tom had a total of 11 interceptions in his two-plus seasons with the Pack, and also averaged 7.7 on 22 punt returns. GAMES PLAYED: 2, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Flynn broke into Pitt's starting lineup as a freshman, then was the Panthers' leading defensive back for the next three years, capping his collegiate career by being named to play in both the Senior Bowl and East-West Shrine games. He was a second-team All-American selection by NEA in his senior year and set a Pitt school record for punt returns with a career total of 121 for 979 yards.

PERSONAL: Thomas Jeffrey Flynn was born in Verona, Pa., on March 24, 1962 and was a scholastic star at Penn Hills High School in Pittsburgh where he led that school to consecutive State championships as a quarterback on offense and safety on defense. He also lettered in track and basketball, and comes from a family of 10 children.

30Running Back*6-1*220*TONY GALBREATH*Missouri*1/29/54*T- '84 (Minn)*12th Year

PRO: One of the most productive backs in the NFL, Tony's career with the Giants has been as a third-down specialist, and he's always done the job. He came up with any number of key plays in '86, and finished as the second leading receiver with 33 catches for 268 yards, and his career receiving mark is now at 464 catches, the most ever by a running back in NFL history. He also added 61 yards rushing during the year, and now has amassed 7,816 career yards rushing and receiving. Veteran fullback came to the Giants from the Minnesota Vikings in the trade for LB Brad Van Pelt prior to the 1984 training camp and had a highly productive season as a third down specialist, rushing for a 4.4 average and leading the running backs in receptions with 37 for 357 yards. In 1985, he added to those figures by rushing for 187 yards and a gaudy 6.4 average, and added 30 pass receptions for another 327 yards and one TD catch vs. Dallas. Tony also added experience and leadership to the club throughout the year. Originally a 2nd round draft pick of the New Orleans Saints in 1976, Tony spent five seasons with the Saints as a starter and had big years in 1978 when he caught a club-record 74 passes, and in 1979 when he rushed for 708 yards. He was traded to the Vikings for a 3rd round draft choice in 1981 and spent three seasons with the Vikes, rushing for 474 yards and catching 45 passes in the 1983 season. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Tony began his collegiate career at Centerville Junior College in Iowa, then was a standout star at Missouri as a running back, winning team MVP honors in his senior year when he was also elected captain. As Missouri's top rusher and receiver, he was also selected to play in both the Senior Bowl and Blue-Gray Bowl games after his senior season.

PERSONAL: Tony Dale Galbreath was born in Fulton, Mo., on January 29, 1954 and was a four sport star in football, basketball, baseball and track at Fulton H.S. in his hometown. A fine bass guitar player, Tony lists basketball and art as hobbies. Married to the former Mary Kay Thompson, Tony has a daughter, Tonisha Renee, 9. From a large family, Tony has 11 brothers and sisters.

CHRIS GODFREY
Michigan 5/17/58
FA-'84 5th Year

PRO: Chris has been a bulwark on the offensive line since taking over the starting RG slot midway through the 1984 season, and has now compiled a string of 47 consecutive starts since winning the job. Extremely strong and quick, he excels equally in pass blocking and run blocking, and perhaps had his best season ever in '86. By season's end, he finally earned some recognition, winning second-team All-NFC honors from UPI and honorable mention All-NFL by the Associated Press. Godfrey was inked by the Giants prior to the 1984 training camp after spending two years as a starter with Michigan in the USFL. Still recovering from an ankle injury incurred in the USFL, Chris didn't see much playing time until midway through the season when he moved in as the starting right guard and played so strongly in his debut start vs. the Redskins and Dave Butz, that he kept that starting job for the remainder of the year and in the playoffs, continuing his outstanding work. In 1985, Chris was healthy for the entire year and was the starting RG for all 16 games and the two playoff outings, and had a topnotch year. He had a big part in the Giants setting an alltime one-season team rushing record. Originally signed as a FA by the Washington Redskins in 1980, Chris was released by the Redskins and signed with the New York Jets that same year, appearing in six games as a defensive tackle. A knee injury shelved him in '81, then he was with the Green Bay Packers briefly before spending those two seasons in the USFL prior to becoming a free agent again and being signed by the Giants. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Godfrey was a starting defensive tackle for three seasons at Michigan under Bo Schembechler, and played in three consecutive Rose Bowls, 1977-79 with the Wolverines.

PERSONAL: Christopher James Godfrey was born in Detroit, Mich., on May 17, 1958, and played his scholastic sports at both DelaSalle Collegiate in Detroit and at Chaminade H.S. in Hollywood, Fla. where he was an honor roll student and member of the National Honor Society. Raised in a large family with eight brothers and sisters, Chris' brother Mike played at Central Michigan, and his grandfather, Harold Godfrey, was a professional hockey player in Canada. Chris earned a business degree at Michigan, is married to the former Daria Chomik and has a daughter, Alexandra Mary.

5th Year

PRO: Highly versatile reserve linebacker had another solid year in '86, appearing in every game and finishing with 40 total tackles along the way. He also came up with 2½ QB sacks, added his fourth career interception and a forced fumble, and generally created havoc whenever he was on the field. His 40 tackles were tops among all reserves, and he added four more stops in the playoffs and Super Bowl. His four-year total of 14 QB sacks as a situation reserve LB ranks up among the leaders in the NFL in that particular department. Highly capable OLB had another solid season in '85 as a reserve, racking up 28 total tackles, adding five QB sacks, two pass interceptions and a forced fumble, while also contributing on special teams—outstanding work for a reserve type player. Andy also etched his name in the Giants' alltime record section in 1984 when he scooped up a Dallas fumble and returned it 81 yards for a touchdown—the longest fumble return in club history. While that lightning bolt was a big play in that victory, Andy also contributed strongly all season long as a reserve OLB, while also making six starting appearances, finishing with 32 tackles, one pass interception and a QB sack. He also made a key fumble recovery in the playoff victory over the Rams. In his rookie year, Andy proved to be a valuable addition as an 8th round draft choice, making a strong impression in pre-season camp, then following that by racking up three QB sacks against the Jets in his initial pre-season outing, filling in for Lawrence Taylor.

Chris Godfrey

Andy Headen

During the regular season, he saw frequent action at linebacker and on special teams, and was used extensively at linebacker on pass-rushing situations. He finished the year with 5½ QB sacks for 41½ yards lost to rank second among the linebackers in sacks to Lawrence Taylor. Headen had 28 total tackles (20 solos, 8 assists) to rank behind the starting LBs. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Headen was a veritable one-man band at Clemson during his four seasons there. An All-American high school quarterback, he won the starting QB job at Clemson as a sophomore, eventually lost the job to Homer Jordan, and then switched to safety and cornerback while doubling as a kickoff return specialist. He finished his career as a standup defensive end and won All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors in his final season. His career stats showed 115 tackles, seven QB traps, two blocked kicks and two pass interceptions.

PERSONAL: Andrew Headen was born in Asheboro, N.C. on July 8, 1960 and was an outstanding scholastic star at Eastern Randolph High School in his hometown, winning All-American, All-Southern and All-State honors as a quarterback, setting total offense and scoring records along the way. He now makes his home in Liberty, N.C.

In 1985, Hill missed the first four games with ankle problems, then was the starter for the final 12 games of the year, finishing with 52 total tackles, two interceptions for 30 yards returned, and 11 kickoff returns for a 16.9 average. JEFF HOSTETLER

PRO: Hostetler saw considerable action in '86, appearing in 13 games, initially on special teams, and later on in the season as a reserve wide receiver when the club had several WRs on the injured list. He had one rushing attempt for one yard vs. the Raiders on a reverse, and on special teams came up with a partially blocked punt against the Eagles.

He also saw extensive action at QB during the pre-season, going 9-for-24 with one TD pass vs. the Packers. Promising young quarterback saw extensive action in the 1985 pre-season, but as the No. 3 QB behind starter Phil Simms and veteran Jeff Rutledge, did not see any action during the regular season, although he did appear in five games as a reserve "extra" WR and on special teams. Jeff threw 13-for-27 for 175 yards and three TDs in pre-season appearances, including a pair of TD connections in a win over the Steelers, and also rushed 14 times for 34 yards to show his capabilities as a QB. He did, however, get to see plenty of time as the "opposing" QB during daily practice sessions, and continued to improve his skills in that way. GAMES PLAYED: 13, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Jeff began his collegiate career at Penn State, then concluded his final two seasons at West Virginia where he led the Mountaineers to consecutive 9-3 seasons while completing 290 passes for 4,055 yards and 24 touchdowns. Won National Player of the Week honors in his junior season when he led West Virginia to a 41-27 upset win over Oklahoma with 17 completions for 321 yards and four TDs. Also won game MVP honors in his senior year when he led Mountaineers to consecutive wins over nationally ranked Maryland, Boston College and Pitt. 6-4 268 D-2a '86 2nd Year

PRO: Big and powerful nose tackle had an auspicious rookie season, despite missing seven games with a broken hand. When he returned from that hand injury, he was the starting nose tackle in key victories over the Redskins and Cardinals when starter Jim Burt was out with an injury, and in both of those outings, Howard was a powerful force in the middle. He finished the season with 14 total tackles and added a pair of QB sacks, then played a key reserve role in the playoffs and Super Bowl, finishing with four tackles in the playoffs, and made a couple of key defensive plays on the Giants' goal line stand in the first half of the Super Bowl triumph. Among the strongest of the Giants in the weight room, he seems to have all the credentials to become a topnotch player in the NFL. GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 2.

COLLEGE: Howard won four varsity letters at Washington State and concluded his collegiate career by winning All-Pac 10 first-team honors in his senior season, as well as the Morris Trophy for being named the Pac-10's Most Outstanding Defensive Lineman in 1985. BOBBY JOHNSON

Wide Receiver

Kansas 12/14/61
FA-'84 4th Year

PRO: Johnson led all wide receivers in catches in '86, nailing 31 for 534 yards and a 17.2 average while catching five TD passes, despite going through the first half of the season with a nagging ankle injury. He had a big game in the season opener vs. Dallas with eight catches for 115 yards and two touchdowns, then made crucial grabs in the victories over Minnesota and Denver late in the season. He also came up with 28 yards rushing on a couple of reverses, and had a 15-yard TD catch in the playoff victory over the 49ers. A starter, after making the club as a free agent, Bobby had one of the best touchdowns-per catch ratio in the NFL in '85, gathering in eight TD throws among his total of 33 receptions, including a pair of scoring grabs vs. St. Louis. Other big days included a dazzling 36-yard TD catch and run in final 15 seconds of the first half in a big win over the Los Angeles Rams and a five catch 104-yard performance against the Dallas Cowboys. One of the big success stories in his rookie season, Johnson was signed as a free agent by the Giants after most NFL clubs had passed on him in the draft since he had reportedly signed with the USFL. Johnson cleared up his contractual problems with the USFL, was inked as a FA by the Giants and was a standout from virtually the first day of training camp. He won himself a starting job at WR during the pre-season, grabbed a 27-yard TD pass in his first pre-season game, then had an impact debut in his first regular NFL game when he caught eight passes for 137 yards and two touchdowns against the Eagles, and had a 66-yarder negated by a penalty. Johnson then went on to finish as the leading WR on the club for '84, finishing with 48 receptions for team highs of 795 yards and seven TD receptions and was named to the All-NFL Rookie team by

Bobby Johnson

UPI and Football Digest. He had his second 100-yard receiving day against the Redskins with six for 117 yards and a 27-yard acrobatic TD catch, then had one of the most spectacular TD grabs of the year with a diving 22-yard reception for the TD that helped in the 28-27 comeback win over Kansas City late in the season. He also added four receptions in the playoff games. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 15.

Tackle Kansas State 12/18/62
6-5 290 FA- '85 2nd Year

PRO: Big, strong reserve offensive lineman saw action in all 16 regular season games and in the playoffs, both on special teams' units and on short yardage situations where his powerful drive-blocking came in handy. The 290-pounder also lined up in the backfield on occasion as a blocking back. He also made a key block on Jeff Rutledge's quarterback sneak for the big first down in the Super Bowl victory. Johnson produced a highly successful pre-season training camp after being signed as a free agent in 1985, impressing the coaching staff with his strength, size and ability. Just when it looked as though he had a solid chance of making the club after some strong performances in pre-season action, Johnson suffered a knee injury and spent the rest of the year on Injured Reserve. He recovered from the injury late in the season, continued workouts with the club, and again showed strongly. Johnson also participated in the off-season workout programs and mini-camps and should be a contender for a job at either tackle or guard this coming season. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Damian earned four letters at Kansas State, winning All-Big Eight second team honors from both AP and UPI in his senior season.

PERSONAL: Damian Curtis Johnson was born in Great Bend, Kan., on December 18, 1962 and won All-State scholastic honors in football as a two-way lineman at Great Bend High School. He also lettered in basketball and wrestling in high school.

A key special teams' player as well, Pepper finished the regular season with a total of 37 tackles, added a pair of quarterback sacks and a 13-yard interception return which set up a TD vs.

Green Bay. Johnson then added seven more tackles in the playoffs and came up with a 27-yard interception return which set up a TD in the opening playoff triumph over the San Francisco 49ers. COLLEGE: Pepper was a four-letter winner with the Buckeyes, was a starter for three of those seasons, team MVP on defense in both 1984 and '85, and team defensive captain in both of those seasons as well. He was twice named to the All-Big 10 team, and won first-team All-American honors in his senior year from the Football News and from UPI. During his career at Ohio State, Pepper was named Defensive Player of the Game an amazing 16 times, and was also selected to play in the Japan Bowl at the end of his senior year.

PRO: As the backup center for starter Bart Oates, Brian didn't get much of an opportunity for playing time behind the iron-man Oates who also does all of the long snapping. He did get into four games during the season, however, and also saw action at center in the playoffs vs. the 49ers and in the Super Bowl vs. the Broncos. After being the Giants' second choice in the third round of the '85 draft, Johnston impressed in subsequent mini-camps, then suffered severe back problems prior to the start of the pre-season training camp. He subsequently underwent surgery for those back problems, and spent the entire season on the NFL Injured Reserve list. GAMES PLAYED: 4, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Brian won four varsity letters at North Carolina, starting his career as an offensive center, then filling in as a defensive tackle when injuries depleted that position. Such was his prowess at both positions that he was honorable mention one season as a center and another as a defensive tackle in the Atlantic Coast Conference. He was elected team captain in his senior year.

appearing in all 16 games and both playoff outings and leading the special teams unit in total tackles on kick coverages with 20, including 15 solo stops. He also saw limited action as a reserve ILB. After being a 12th round pick in 1983, Robbie suffered an injury to his spinal column after a strong pre-season, and was on injured reserve all of that season. He was fully recovered in 1984 and made the club as a reserve ILB and special teams player and saw action in all 16 regular season games and both of the playoffs. 	5th Year

PRO: Veteran free safety was in the midst of his best season when he suffered a major knee injury on Dec. 7 against the Redskins, underwent surgery and was lost for the rest of the year. Prior to that injury, Terry had come up with four interceptions for 52 yards returned, had a total of 59 tackles, one QB sack, a pair of fumble recoveries and a forced fumble and was playing as well as any free safety in the league. He has rehabilitated extremely well, took part in the May mini-camp, and appears ready to be back in time for training camp. Kinard had a topnotch season in '85, leading the secondary in tackles for the second straight year with a total of 83, while also recording a personal high of five interceptions during the year for 100 yards in returns. He also chipped in with an 18-yard QB sack, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble, while making any number of big plays during the season. He added a key 15-yard interception return in the playoff victory over the 49ers which set up a TD, and had seven total tackles in the playoffs. Terry also had a strong season in 1984, leading the secondary in tackles with a total of 83, adding a pair of pass interceptions (both against Dallas in the two victories over the Cowboys), a fumble recovery and a forced fumble. Kinard was also the secondary's leading tackler in the playoffs with 14 and made perhaps the biggest stop of the year when he tripped up Rams' RB Eric Dickerson when it appeared Dickerson was free for a TD burst which would have put L.A. in the lead at that point. The Giants' No. 1 draft pick in 1983, Terry was slowed by some nagging injuries in training camp, but then recovered and played strongly in the pre-season, getting a pair of impressive interceptions and returns while alternating at the free safety spot with the veteran Beasley Reece. That situation remained through the early portion of the regular season until Kinard wrestled the starting job from Reece halfway through the year. By season's end, Kinard was a unanimous choice for the All-NFL Rookie teams... had 70 tackles (50 solo, 20 assists)

Terry Kinard

...three interceptions for 49 yards (including a pair in one game vs. Dallas)... a QB sack and a fumble recovery and return of 10 yards. His overall play continued to improve with each and every week. His best game might have been the second game vs. the Cowboys. In addition to his two interceptions on Danny White, Kinard had a third interception negated, and just missed another...added 10 tackles, two more pass deflections and that fumble recovery. GAMES PLAYED: 14, STARTED: 14.

COLLEGE: Kinard was a unanimous All-American choice at Clemson and was additionally named National Defensive Player of the Year by two other polls. He was named to the Hula Bowl and Senior Bowl games after his final season, had an interception in the first mentioned, and was MVP in the latter game. A four-year starter at Clemson, he set the school's alltime records for most tackles by a defensive back (291) and interceptions (17 for 147 yards).

PERSONAL: Alfred Terrance Kinard was born on November 24, 1959 in Bitburg, Germany where his father was serving as an Air Force NCO. He grew up in Sumter, S.C. where he won All-Star honors in both football and basketball. He had several collegiate basketball offers but chose football instead.

5 SEAN LANDETA

Punter Towson State 1/6/62
6-0 200 FA-'85 3rd Year

PRO: Sean had a powerful season in 1986, leading the NFC in punting average with a 44.8 mark, and in net punting average with a 37.1 record. For those exploits, he was named to the All-NFL first-team as punter, and also earned his first Pro Bowl designation. He was also among the league leaders in punts inside the 20 with a total of 24. He had any number of big punts during the season which pinned down the opposition deep in their own territory. Landeta wrested the punting job from the veteran Dave Jennings in '85 after coming over from USFL. He was among the league leaders in punting average for most of the year, then tailed off somewhat towards the end, but nonetheless finished with a 42.9 average on 81 punts and was named to the second-team All-NFC team by UPI and to the All-NFL Rookie team by Football Digest. He had particularly big days vs. St. Louis and Washington when he averaged 49.2 and 51.3 respectively. Landeta was signed as a free agent after finishing a three-year career in the USFL with the Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars. A steady and consistent performer with the Stars, Sean was a clutch kicker in the Stars' championship games of 1983 and 1984, averaging 52.5 in the former game and 53.0 in the '84 title outing. He also set a regular season one-game punting average mark vs. Arizona in '84 when he had a 52.3 average. His season averages included 41.9 on 86 punts, with a long 72 yards in 1983, and 41.1 on 53 punts with a long of 65 in 1984. He was also named to the All-USFL team in '84 when he led the league in net punting average with 38.2 mark and led the league in punts inside the 20-yard line with 31 in the '83 season. He was a 14th round selection by the Stars in 1983. GAMES PLAYED: 16.

COLLEGE: Three-year letterman at Towson State, Sean led the nation in Division II punting in 1980 with a 43.4 average, while also kicking 14 field goals. He was also in the Division II's top five punters in 1981 and 1982, with averages of 41.1 in '81 and a 44.7 mark in '82. He was a three-time All-ECAC choice at Towson, and was a Kodak Division All-American and AP Little All-American in 1982.

PERSONAL: Sean Landeta was born on January 6, 1962 in Baltimore, Md., and is working on a degree in communication at Towson State during the off-seasons.

GREG LASKER

Arkansas 9/28/64

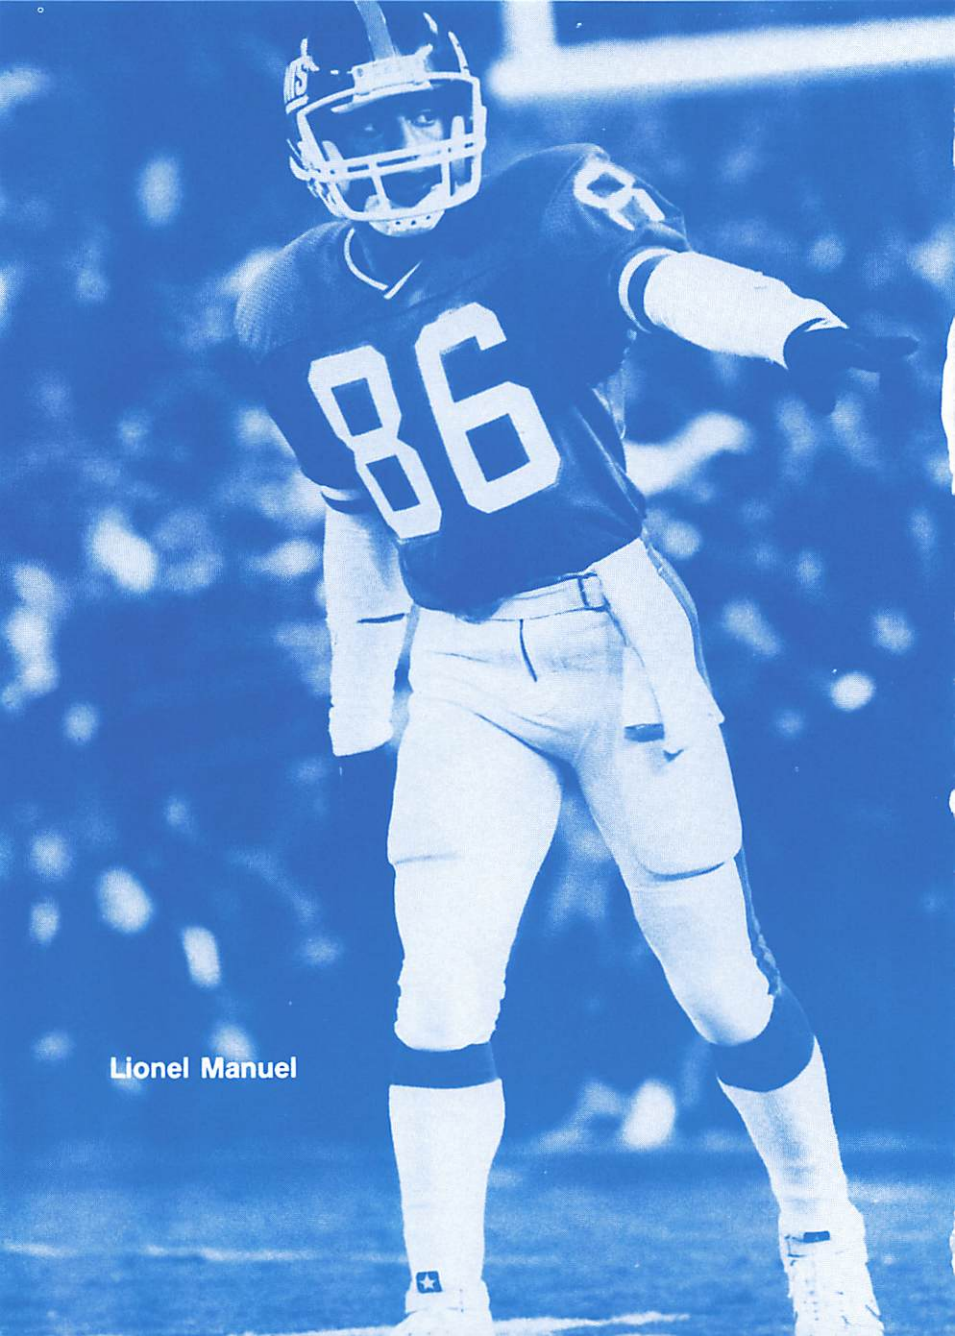

D-2c '86 2nd Year

PRO: Lasker was another of the defensive rookies who made vital contributions to the club in 1986 as a reserve safety and special teams' performer. A solid tackler on the special teams' units, he had two forced fumbles during the regular season with robust tackles, and he was also a strong performer as a reserve safety and nickel back, finishing the year with a total of 28 tackles. He also came up with a big pass interception in the second regular season victory over the Washington Redskins, and had one quarterback sack during the season. He also appeared in all of the playoff games and Super Bowl, registering a total of three tackles in kick coverages. He has the ability to play either strong safety or free safety because of his strength and speed. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Lasker won four varsity letters at Arkansas, and was either a starting corner or strong safety in every season with the Razorbacks. He finished his career with 198 total tackles, nine interceptions and 30 pass deflections, and won third-team All-American honors in his senior year from both the Football News and Associated Press, while winning first-team All-Southwest Conference honors as well. Selected to play in the East-West Shrine game after his senior season, his best outing in 1985 came against Baylor when he won defensive player of the game honors for his 11 solo tackles and game-saving interception in the end zone with just a minute left to play.

LIONEL MANUEL

Pacific

4/13/62

PRO: The Giants' leading receiver in 1985 with 49 receptions, Lionel was off to another solid start in '86, then suffered a knee injury vs. the Saints in the fourth game of the year, and was out of action for the remainder of the regular season. Up until he was injured, Manuel had 11 catches for 181 yards and three TDs, and had scored both touchdowns in a 14-9 win over the Raiders in Los Angeles. He recovered in time for the playoffs, making two big catches in the NFC championship game vs. the Redskins, including a TD grab, then had three more key catches in the Super Bowl victory over the Broncos. Manuel was well on his way to a 1,000-yard receiving year in '85 until he suffered a hamstring pull vs. the Cardinals and missed the final four games of the regular season. At that, in just 12 games, he led the club in receptions with 49 for 859 yards and had five TD grabs. Along the way, he had a trio of 100-yard games—105 vs. the Packers, 129 vs. the Cowboys and 111 vs. the Bengals—and had two scoring catches vs. the Cowboys, including a 51-yarder. He returned to action in the playoffs and had three catches for 56 yards in the victory over the 49ers. A 7th round draft choice, Lionel made an impact in his rookie season, finishing the year as a starting WR after seeing only limited action in the early part of the year. Manuel saw only infrequent action in the pre-season with three receptions, but made an auspicious debut in regular NFL season play when his first NFL reception was a 16-yard TD catch in a 28-7 win over the Dallas Cowboys where he turned All-Pro cornerback Everson Walls around on the play. Saw his first extensive action in the Monday Night outing vs. the 49ers and had five catches for 80 yards, then had his first big day with a 120-yard on four grabs in a win over Atlanta. Lionel followed that with another big day against Walls, catching five for 102 yards in the second win over Dallas, including a 53-yarder and a 9-yard TD grab. All told, Manuel finished the year with 33 catches for 619 yards, an 18.8 average and four touchdowns, and also filled in as the punt returner when Phil McConkey was injured, with eight for 62 yards and a 7.8 average. Added five catches in the playoffs and had six punt returns for a 7.8 average as well. Has great quickness coming out of his cuts, and Cowboy Walls predicts great future for Lionel. GAMES PLAYED: 4, STARTED: 4.

COLLEGE: Manuel began his collegiate career at Citrus Junior College where he was All-Conference and team MVP after starting as a QB before switching to WR. At Pacific, Lionel was both a WR and running back, and won MVP offensive honors in his senior year and second-team All-PCAA. He also set a school record for most pass receptions in his senior year, and was a Conference long-jump champion twice while at Citrus J.C.

PERSONAL: Lionel Manuel Jr. was born in Los Angeles, Cal., on April 13, 1962, and was a six-letter winner at Bassett High School in LaPuente, Cal., in football and track where he was All-League twice and MVP in football, and long jump champion in track. He was also a National Football Foundation Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete that same year. A talented musician, Manuel plays guitar, drums and the synthesizer and would like to enter the broadcast field or music business after his football days are over.

70 LEONARD MARSHALL

Defensive End Louisiana State 10/22/61
6-3 285 D-2'83 5th Year

PRO: Big Leonard had another banner season in 1986, winning his second straight trip to the Pro Bowl and winning All-NFL honors for a second time as well. Both honors were well deserved as the big man racked up a total of 60 tackles on the season and added 12 quarterback sacks to finish second to Lawrence Taylor in that department.

Leonard also tied for the club lead in fumble recoveries with three, and in forced fumbles with three, and also came up with his second pass interception in as many seasons. He continued those efforts in the playoffs and Super Bowl, leading all defensive linemen with 11 total tackles, adding a QB sack in the NFC championship game vs. the Redskins, then getting a pair of sacks on John Elway in the Super Bowl victory. Marshall had a slam-bang year in '85, setting an alltime club record with 15½ quarterback sacks...earning first-team All-NFC and second-team All-NFL recognition... being voted to his first Pro Bowl as a starter... and also being named the NFC Defensive Lineman of the Year by the NFLPA. He started the season off with a bang by registering 10 tackles and three QB sacks against the Eagles in a 21-0 victory. He had plenty of other big days along the way as well, including another three-QB sack game in the second victory over the Eagles. All told, Leonard had 77 tackles for the season, then came up with another big effort in the playoff win over the 49ers when he had six tackles and a big 13 yard QB sack on Joe Montana. He also came up with his first interception during the year when he batted a pass attempt into the air vs. New Orleans, then picked it off and rumbled three yards with the ball. Leonard had a strong season in 1984, particularly during the second half of the season and into the playoffs. As the starting right defensive end, he had 44 tackles during the regular campaign, including 7½ QB sacks and two forced fumbles. He had particularly good games in the second win over the Cowboys when he was in on three QB sacks and kayoed Danny White with one of them, and in the win over the Jets when he had a pair of QB traps. Then in the playoffs, he had big games in both of those outings, particularly in the victory over the Rams when he had five big solo stops, four of them for losses, including his key stop on Dwayne Crutchfield for a 3-yard loss late in the game which forced the Rams to settle for a FG, instead of taking the lead. In his rookie year, Leonard had his early progress slowed by being overweight in the early stages of pre-season training camp, but once he got down to business and got into shape, he continued to improve in all aspects of the game. He eventually won the starting job at defensive RE for the final six games of the season and played strongly as a starter, registering 27 tackles in those starts, including getting in on one QB sack and registering a safety against the Super Bowl champion Los Angeles Raiders when he tackled QB Jim Plunkett in the end zone. Marshall also had several blocked passes late in the season and was equally as strong against the run. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: A three-year starter at LSU, Leonard showed marked improvement in each of his campaigns in college, leading the Tigers in tackles for losses in both his junior and senior seasons, and also led that highly rated defensive unit in QB sacks in each of those two years.

PERSONAL: Leonard Allen Marshall was born in Franklin La., on October 22, 1961 and was a powerhouse scholastic player at Franklin High School as a two-way tackle, winning both All-Conference and All-State honors, registering 16 QB sacks in his senior year. Leonard is related to two former NFL players, Ernie Ladd of Houston and Warren Wells of the Raiders. Married during this past off-season, Leonard and his wife, Annette, reside in Mahwah, N.J. in the off-seasons.

PRO: Like vintage wine, Martin seems to get better with age. After several seasons as a third-down pass rush specialist, George went on fulltime duty in 1986 when starting defensive LE Curtis McGriff went down with a hamstring injury and was out for the season. Thrust into that fulltime role, the 12-year veteran had an amazing season, and continued to be the "big play" man he has always been. Over the regular season span, George finished with 49 total tackles, added three quarterback sacks, a fumble recovery and two forced fumbles and added to his alltime NFL record for most touchdowns by a defensive lineman. He made a one-handed interception of a John Elway pass vs. Denver in the regular season and returned it 78 yards for a TD, the longest of his career, and the sixth defensive TD of that illustrious career. That topped his 56-yard interception return for a TD vs. the Cardinals in 1985. He continued his big play business in the playoffs and Super Bowl, getting a sack in the NFC championship game vs. the Redskins, then sacking John Elway for a safety in the Super Bowl triumph. By season's end, George was named co-winner of the 18th annual Cappelletti Award with Jim Burt, and was also named the NFLPA's national winner of the Whizzer White Award. The senior member of the Giants, Martin has been an outstanding player and team leader on and off the field, for years. As a third down specialist in '85, George proved that his abilities continued to impress by registering a personal one-season high of 10 QB sacks. Highly versatile and dependable veteran has been the club's top pass-rushing defensive lineman for many years. He has had 74 QB sacks over the past nine seasons, by far the top total of any defensive lineman on the club over that span. In addition to his pass-rushing abilities, Martin has scored those seven career touchdowns, the most ever in NFL history by a defensive lineman. And he's scored those TDs in a variety of methods—a 30 yard interception TD in 1977; an 11-yard return with a lateral after a blocked FG attempt in 1978; a 4-yard TD pass from Phil Simms when George lined up as a TE in 1980; and two fumble returns for TDs in 1981....also a club record for most fumble return TDs in a single season. He even had another TD on an interception return in a pre-season game in 1976. A starter ever since his rookie season when he as an 11th round draft choice, Martin has been an eight time winner of the Byron "Whizzer" White Award for team contribution as voted by his teammates, was elected defensive captain in 1981 and is a former representative on the United Way public service television commercials. He's missed only six games in his career. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Martin was an Art Education major at Oregon, where he won three varsity letters in football as both a tight end and defensive end, and two varsity letters in basketball as a teammate of NBA star Lonnie Shelton. He had 83 tackles in his senior season, including big days against Michigan and Northwestern. In high school, Martin was Student Body president and was named to the Outstanding Teenagers in America listing.

PERSONAL: George Dwight Martin was born on February 16, 1953 in Greenville, S.C., but grew up in California where he was an All-American in basketball and All-State in football at Armijo H.S. in Fairfield, Calif. George and his wife, Diane, have four children—a daughter, Teresa Michelle, and three sons, George Dwight II, Benjamin Dean, and Aaron. George's younger brother, Doug, was a standout defensive end at the University of Washington and was the No. 1 draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings in 1980.

PHIL McCONKEY

Navy

2/24/57

FA-'83

4th Year

PRO: McConkey had one of those Cinderella years in 1986. Caught in a numbers situation, he was released on the last pre-season cut, then signed by the Packers where he was a reserve for four games. When the Giants lost Lionel Manuel due to a knee injury, they sent a draft choice to Green Bay to get McConkey back, and from there on, the ex-Navy pilot came up with some big plays for the rest of the campaign. He finished the year, in just 12 games, with 1,003 all-purpose yards, getting 279 yards on 16 pass receptions, 253 on 32 punt returns and 471 on 24 kickoff returns. He caught a key 16-yard TD pass in the big Dec. 7 win over the Redskins, and a 46-yard reception in the final minute vs. Denver to set up the winning FG in that regular season victory. The big plays continued in the playoffs. He had a touchdown catch in the win over the 49ers while also knotting the NFL playoff record with seven punt returns in one game, then made three more big plays in the Super Bowl victory. His 25-yard punt return set up a FG, then he hauled in a 44-yard flea-flicker pass to set up a TD, and then he dove and caught a deflected pass for a 6-yard TD catch of his own. Plucky punt return-wide receiver specialist had a highly productive season in '85, setting an alltime club record for most punt returns in a season with 53 for 442 yards returned, and rolled up 1,080 yards of all-purpose yardage for a second straight year of 1,000-plus production. Used also as a third down type receiver, Phil grabbed 25 passes for 404 yards and one TD and had a big day vs. Dallas with six catches for 128 yards. He had a big hand in the Giants' opening day win over the Eagles, setting up one TD with a 40-yard kickoff return and another TD with a 37-yard punt return. Also played tough on special teams with one forced fumble and one fumble recovery. Originally signed as a FA by the Giants in 1983, Phil enjoyed a strong training camp and pre-season as a receiver and punt returner, then was recalled to Navy duty and missed that entire campaign. He was discharged as a Lieutenant in May, 1984, then played his first full season of football since the 1978 season at Navy and turned out to be a highly productive receiver and return specialist, racking up 1,001 all-purpose yards before being kayoed by broken ribs vs. Kansas City and missing the final three regular season games and both playoff outings. He also led the club in kick off returns with 28 for 541 yards, and added eight pass receptions for a 19.3 average, enjoying particular success against the Washington Redskins, averaging 26.0 on five receptions, three of which set up Giant touchdowns. He also showed his heads-up special teams' play by recovering a free ball on a kickoff in the end zone for a touchdown against the Rams. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: McConkey played four varsity seasons at Navy as a wide receiver and return man, winning All-East, All-ECAC and All-American honorable mention in his senior year. He also won the Cooke Memorial Award and Thompson Trophy while at Navy, was MVP in the 1978 Holiday Bowl and also played in the Japan Bowl. He held numerous records at Navy for most TD receptions season and career; most yards-per-catch seasons and career; most punt returns, game, season and career; most punt return yards, career; and most combined yards punt and kickoff return, career. Also won a varsity letter in track as a sprinter.

PERSONAL: Philip Joseph McConkey was born on February 24, 1957 in Buffalo, N.Y. and was an all-around star at Canisius H.S. in Buffalo. His father, Joseph McConkey, is a police detective in Buffalo. Phil served from 1979 through 1984 as a Naval helicopter pilot, serving in several air stations in the U.S. and in fleet service in the Mediterranean.

87 SOLOMON MILLER
Wide Receiver Utah State 12/6/64
6-1 185 D-6a '86 2nd Year

PRO: Miller had a highly productive pre-season with the Giants in his rookie season, leading all receivers in average-per-catch with a 24.8 mark on six catches for 149 yards. He then appeared in all 16 regular season games, two of those as a starter when Lionel Manuel and Stacy Robinson were both out of action and finished the regular campaign with nine receptions for 144 yards and touchdown receptions against Philadelphia and Seattle. He also had one rushing attempt for three yards and seven kickoff returns for 111 yards and a 15.9 average, while also contributing on special teams as a coverage man, adding six solo tackles on kick coverages. He also played on special teams in the playoffs and Super Bowl, making two solo tackles. Blessed with raw talent and good speed, he has a chance to become a solid player. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 2.

COLLEGE: Solomon was a three-year starter and four-letter winner at Utah State and had a career total of 65 catches for 939 yards and three TDs in a run-oriented offense. His top season was 1984 when he had 29 catches for 407 yards, including five catches against USC and Fresno State. He also lettered in track at Utah State on a sprint relay team.

PERSONAL: Solomon Miller was born in Los Angeles, Calif., on December 6, 1964 and was a football and track star at Compton Senior High School, setting an alltime school and conference record as a wide receiver when he caught 19 passes in one game for 187 yards and three TDs. He also won All-American honors in track as a sprinter and as a member of the 400-relay team. Majored in Sociology at Utah State and had the highest GPA of all the wide receivers there.

20 JOE MORRIS
Running Back Syracuse 9/15/60
5-7 195 D-2 '82 6th Year

PRO: Dynamic Joe has launched an all-out assault on the Giants' alltime rushing records over the past two seasons, shattering nearly every one in sight, while also winning All-NFL and Pro Bowl honors in both seasons. This past year, he broke his own alltime one-season rushing record by churning up 1,516 yards, and that effort jumped him from 12th place all the way up to 4th on the club's career rushing list. Morris also rushed for 100 or more yards in a game eight times for another one-season club mark, and that upped his career 100-plus outings to 16, yet another club standard. He also had 14 rushing TDs for the season which brought his career rushing TDs number to 40, and that's yet another club standard, and his current career rushing average of 4.35 is yet another club mark. While the records are certainly impressive, Morris had many other impacts during the Super Bowl year. When almost all of the wide receivers were either out of action or hurting at mid-season and the passing attack was virtually nil, Morris rampaged for back-to-back 181-yard rushing games in crucial wins over the Redskins and Cowboys. All told, seven of Joe's eight 100-yard rushing games took place in the final 10 games of the season. He continued the onslaught through the playoffs and Super Bowl, rushing for 313 yards in those three games, including a 159-yard, two-touchdown effort in the opening playoff romp over the 49ers. When Joe got the opportunity to be the starting halfback in 1984, he responded with gusto. Replacing the since-traded Butch Woolfolk midway through the season, Morris led the Giants to a 37-13 rout of the Redskins in his first starting assignment, equalling a club record for three rushing TDs in one game. He followed that with strong performances for the rest of the year, including an 83-yard day in the victory over the Jets, and his first NFL 100-plus game, a 107-yard effort vs. the Cardinals. All told, Joe finished as the second leading rusher on the club with 510 yards and a 3.8 average, with 425 of those yards coming in the second half of the year when he took over the starting role. Morris was also the club's leading rusher in the playoffs, and also had a 61-yard burst vs. the Rams negated by a penalty. Used only sparingly in his first two years with the Giants, Morris nonetheless had some fine games. In 1983, had particularly strong outing in season finale vs. NFC champion Redskins when he rushed 13 times for 69 yards, and added a 6-yard touchdown reception. Also had strong efforts in duty as kickoff return man with 14 returns for 255 yards and an 18.2 average. During his rookie year, he scored a touchdown on his very first NFL rushing attempt, a 3-yard score vs. Green Bay, but managed only 48 yards rushing on 15 attempts for the season. He had five receptions vs. St. Louis that same season, but saw only infrequent action. GAMES PLAYED: 15, STARTED: 15.

COLLEGE: Joe set all of the alltime rushing records at Syracuse, erasing the marks of such former greats as Jim Brown, Larry Csonka and Floyd Little by rushing for 4,229 yards in his four seasons. Also set the one-game mark with 252 yards vs. Kansas and had 21 rushing games of 100 or more yards. An All-American choice his senior year, he was selected to play in the Senior Bowl, East-West Shrine and Blue-Gray games.

PERSONAL: Joseph Morris was born in Fort Bragg, N.C. on September 15, 1960 where his dad was a career Army NCO. Joe first played scholastic sports at Southern Pines, N.C., then finished at Aver H.S. in Ayer, Mass. where he was an All-State star. Two brothers, Larry and Mike, played at Syracuse, and a third brother, Jamie, is a RB at Michigan. Joe also became a married man in 1985, and he and his wife, Linda, now reside in Washington Township, N.J. with daughter, Samantha, born last season.

84*Tight End*6-3*240*ZEKE MOWATT*Florida State*3/5/61*FA- '83*5th Year

PRO: After missing the entire 1985 season due to major knee surgery, Mowatt returned to play a complete season in '86, appearing in all 16 regular season games and in the playoffs as a backup to Mark Bavaro and as an occasional starter in the two tight end-offense. His comeback was an outstanding one, considering the severity of that damaged knee and during the second half of the year, he seemed to have regained almost all of his previous mobility. Zeke ended the year with 10 catches for 119 yards, including a pair of touchdown grabs, then made his presence felt in the playoffs when he caught TD passes vs. the 49ers and against the Broncos in the Super Bowl. Giants suffered a severe blow in 1985 when Mowatt suffered a major knee injury in the final pre-season game, underwent surgery and was lost for the entire year. Up to that point, the powerful TE had led the club in receptions during the pre-season, and seemed ready for an All-Pro year. Signed as a relative unknown free agent in 1983, Zeke took advantage of his opportunities and not only won himself a spot on the roster, but won the starting tight end job, beating out veterans Gary Shirk and Tom Mullady and a 3rd round draft choice in the process. Initially, he caught the attention of the coaches with his ferocious blocking, then improved on his pass-catching, while continuing to block like an offensive tackle. He finished the season with 21 receptions for 280 yards and a 13.3 average, including a 46-yard TD catch against the Dallas Cowboys. In 1984, Mowatt improved even more, sharing the club lead in receptions with 48 for the regular season and with 12 in the playoffs. He had his best outing in the comeback win over Kansas City with seven grabs for 126 yards, including the winning TD catch in the final minutes of play. Mowatt had six TD catches for the year, and had big days in both wins over the Cowboys with eight grabs for 127 yards and a TD in those two outings. He also came away with some post-season honors, including a second-team All-NFL nod from College and Pro Football Weekly. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 5.

COLLEGE: Mowatt earned three varsity letters as a tight end at Florida State, but was used primarily as a blocker and subsequently did not have the stats as a receiver. He had plenty of toughness and ability, however, and was highly recommended by Florida State coaches.

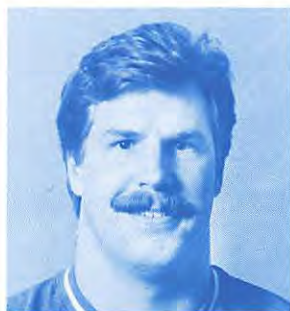

PERSONAL: Zeke Mowatt was born on March 5, 1961 in Wauchula, Fla., and was a scholastic star in football, basketball and track at Hardee High School in Wauchula.

KARL NELSON

Offensive Tackle Iowa State 6/14/60
6-6 285 D-3A '83 4th Year

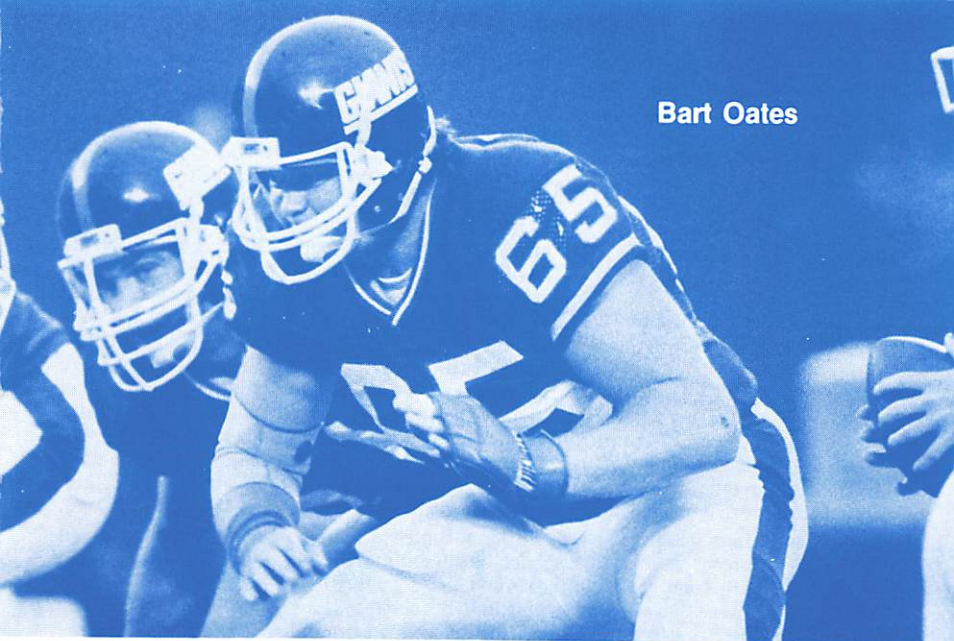

PRO: One of the big reasons why the Giants' offense has improved so dramatically over the past three years has been the consistency and constant improvement of the offensive line. And one of the constants there has been the work of Nelson, the biggest of the offensive linemen. Karl won the starting RT job in what amounted to his rookie year, and since that time has now been the starter in 55 consecutive games. The No. 3 draft choice in 1983, Nelson was enjoying a productive pre-season until he suffered a fractured foot and spent the entire year on Injured Reserve. He worked hard during that off-season, rehabilitated completely and worked hard on a weight program which built him up from 270 to 285. In 1984, he was solid again from the start of camp, winning the starting RT job at the outset, and turning in a masterful rookie campaign in which he started all 16 regular season games and both of the playoff outings. By season's end, he had played any number of outstanding games and was named to the All-NFL Rookie team by UPI, Pro Football Weekly and Football Digest. Had one of his very best games in the 20-10 victory over the New York Jets when he neutralized All-Pro DE Mark Gastineau.

GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Carl was a four-year starter at tackle for Iowa State, and was named to the first-team All-American team by NEA and to the Associated Press honorable mention All-American team in his senior campaign. He was also an All-Big Eight selection for two seasons and an Academic All-American choice. He concluded his collegiate career by being named to play in the East-West Shrine game.

PERSONAL: Karl Nelson was born in DeKalb, Ill., on June 14, 1960 and won All-State Scholastic honors in football at DeKalb High School in his hometown. He also earned letters in basketball and in baseball, as a pitcher. Of Swedish descent, Karl is married to the former Heidi Christina Stegeman of River Vale, N.J., and the Nelsons now reside in Woodcliff Lake, N.J.

Bart Oates

Karl Nelson

65*Center*6-3*Brigham Young*265*FA- '85*BART OATES*12/16/58*3rd Year

PRO: Oates was rock solid at center for the Giants in '86, playing virtually every minute of the season, as well as handling all of the long-snap duties. A heady player and powerful blocker, he was the anchorman for this unit which has excelled over the past two campaigns. At season's end, he was named as a Pro Bowl alternate and also won All-NFL honorable mention from the AP. Bart was signed as a FA by the Giants during the 1985 pre-season after spending three seasons in the USFL with Philadelphia/Baltimore where he won All-League honors twice. After making his debut with the Giants late in the pre-season, Oates moved in as the starting center for the final 14 games of the regular season and for both of the playoff games and by season's end, his work was so productive that he was a unanimous choice for the All-NFL Rookie team. Also doubles as the long snapper, which gives him double value. Big reason why Giants set an alltime club record for rushing yardage in a season in '85. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Oates was a three-year starter at center for Brigham Young and was named to the All-Western Athletic Conference first team in his senior year, as well as to the second-team All-American by both AP and NEA. Twice an Academic All-American in '82 and '83, he was also selected to play in the Blue-Gray, East-West Shrine and Senior Bowl games after that senior season. He was a second round USFL draft pick.

PERSONAL: Bart Steven Oates was born in Mesa, Ariz., on December 16, 1958, then was an outstanding student-athlete at Albany High School in Albany, Ga. Bart's older brother, Brad, is a former NFL and USFL player. Bart received his degree from Brigham Young and is currently attending law school in the off-season.

34*Cornerback*5-11*190*ELVIS PATTERSON*Kansas*FA- '84*10/21/60*4th Year

PRO: Patterson was bothered by a groin injury for much of 1986, but nonetheless appeared in 15 games, seven as the starter on the left corner where he had started all of '85 and led the club in interceptions. He finished the year with 53 total tackles and added two pass interceptions for 26 yards returned. Fully recovered by the playoffs, he started in all three of the post-season games and was the leading tackler in the secondary with a total of 12 stops, and he also had an interception which set up a touchdown in the Super Bowl win over Denver. One of the big success stories for the Giants in '85, Elvis got his chance to start at the left corner when incumbent Mark Haynes was a holdout, and he responded by leading the club in interceptions with six. His first big one came in the second Eagles' game when he picked off Ron Jaworski in the opening moments of overtime and returned the theft 29 yards for the winning TD. He had an interception which set up one TD and a fumble recovery which set up another TD in the win over the Saints and had three interceptions in the two games vs. the Cowboys. Also added 81 total tackles for the year. Signed as a free agent, Elvis made an instant impression in his first mini-camp with the Giants, recording top marks for his speed, strength and agility. He also enjoyed a productive training camp, and made the club as a reserve cornerback and special teams' player. He appeared in all but one regular season game in both of the post-season playoff games, and finished as one of the leading tacklers on special teams' kick coverages with 13 tackles. He also had a blocked field goal in the victory over the New York Jets in regular season, then added another blocked field goal in the divisional playoff games vs. the 49ers, and added three special teams' tackles in the playoffs. GAMES PLAYED: 15, STARTED: 7.

COLLEGE: Patterson won four letters at Kansas as a defensive back, and also found himself lined up as either a linebacker or defensive end during special defensive alignments with the Jayhawks. Elvis was a three-year starter at Kansas and was rated as one of the top all-around athletes on that club.

PERSONAL: Elvis Vernell Patterson was born in Bryan, Tex., on October 21, 1960, and was a three-sport star at Jack Yates High School in Houston, Tex. and is a resident of Houston during the off-season.

6-4 235 D-4A' 84 4th Year

PRO: Strong, steady and heady inside linebacker enjoyed another solid season in 1986 as the starting inside man next to Harry Carson. In his third season as a starter, Gary finished with 96 total tackles, came up with a pair of pass interceptions and had a forced fumble. He continued his excellence in the post-season games, finishing as the club's third-leading tackler in the playoffs with 17 stops, and was outstanding in the NFC championship game victory over the Redskins when he had 12 tackles, a QB sack on Jay Shroeder and an interception. Gary enjoyed a solid season in '85, starting every game in the regular season and playoffs, and finishing as the third leading tackler on the unit with 90 total tackles behind Pro Bowlers Lawrence Taylor and Harry Carson. Along the way, Gary added a pass interception vs. the Packers, was in on a QB sack, had two forced fumbles and had a partially blocked punt vs. the Eagles on special teams' duty. He had 14 total tackles in the playoffs and continued to give the club aggressive and heady defensive play all year long. Gary had a solid rookie season at inside linebacker, being named to virtually all of the All-NFL Rookie teams at season's end. The big rookie first made his presence felt in a 16-9 pre-season win over the Pittsburgh Steelers when he had 12 tackles and two interceptions, the second of which came in the end zone to save the victory. He saw reserve action in the first part of the season, then won the starting job and remained as a starter alongside Harry Carson for the remainder of the year and through the playoffs. He finished with 76 tackles in the regular season, added a QB sack, two interceptions, and led the defense with three fumble recoveries. He also topped the club in total tackles for one game, registering 17 in the 20-10 win over the New York Jets, and both of his regular season interceptions were crucial ones, coming in key situations in victories over Atlanta and St. Louis. Gary was also outstanding in the playoffs, finishing with 14 tackles in the two games, and had a top performance against the 49ers in the divisional playoff with eight tackles, two interceptions on Joe Montana, and three pass deflections.

WILLIAM ROBERTS

Ohio State

4th Year

PRO: Big, strong offensive tackle saw action in all 16 games and during the post-season play as a reserve lineman and special teams' player, while also getting playing time on short yardage situations at tackle or as a third tight end. Extremely agile for such a big man, he has improved his skills as a run blocker to go with his pass-blocking acumen, and while he was a reserve all season, nonetheless had been a starter in the past during his rookie season. After winning a starting job in his rookie season, Roberts went down with a major knee injury during the early part of pre-season training camp in 1985, underwent surgery and was out for the entire year. William made an impressive debut in training camp as a rookie, winning a starting job at left tackle almost from the outset. He then enjoyed a strong pre-season at LT, and was the starter at the position for the first eight regular season games until he went down with a severe ankle injury which had him on the sidelines for five weeks. He then returned for the final portion of the season, and was back as the starting LT in the playoff games against the Rams and 49ers. Roberts showed strong run-blocking and pass-blocking abilities during his rookie season, and despite missing those games late in the season proved he has the ability to be a solid starter in the seasons to come. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Roberts was a starting tackle for three seasons at Ohio State, building himself up from a 240-pound freshman to his current size. All told, he won four letters with the Buckeyes, and in his senior year won All-American honors from Street & Smith and the Sporting News, while also gaining All Big-10 honors. He played in the Fiesta Bowl, Liberty Bowl and Holiday Bowl games while a Buckeye and was also named to play in the Japan Bowl in his senior year. He was also team captain as a senior.

PERSONAL: William Harold Roberts was born in Miami, Fla., on August 5, 1962 and played his scholastic sports at Carol City High School in Miami where he was twice MVP in football and was captain of both the football and basketball squads. William's father, Cleveland, is a school counselor in Miami, while an older brother, Alton, is a defensive end with the Roughriders in the CFL, and a cousin, Reginald Sanilands played with Memphis in the USFL. William lists fishing and outdoor sports as his hobbies, and he was also a trombone player in high school.

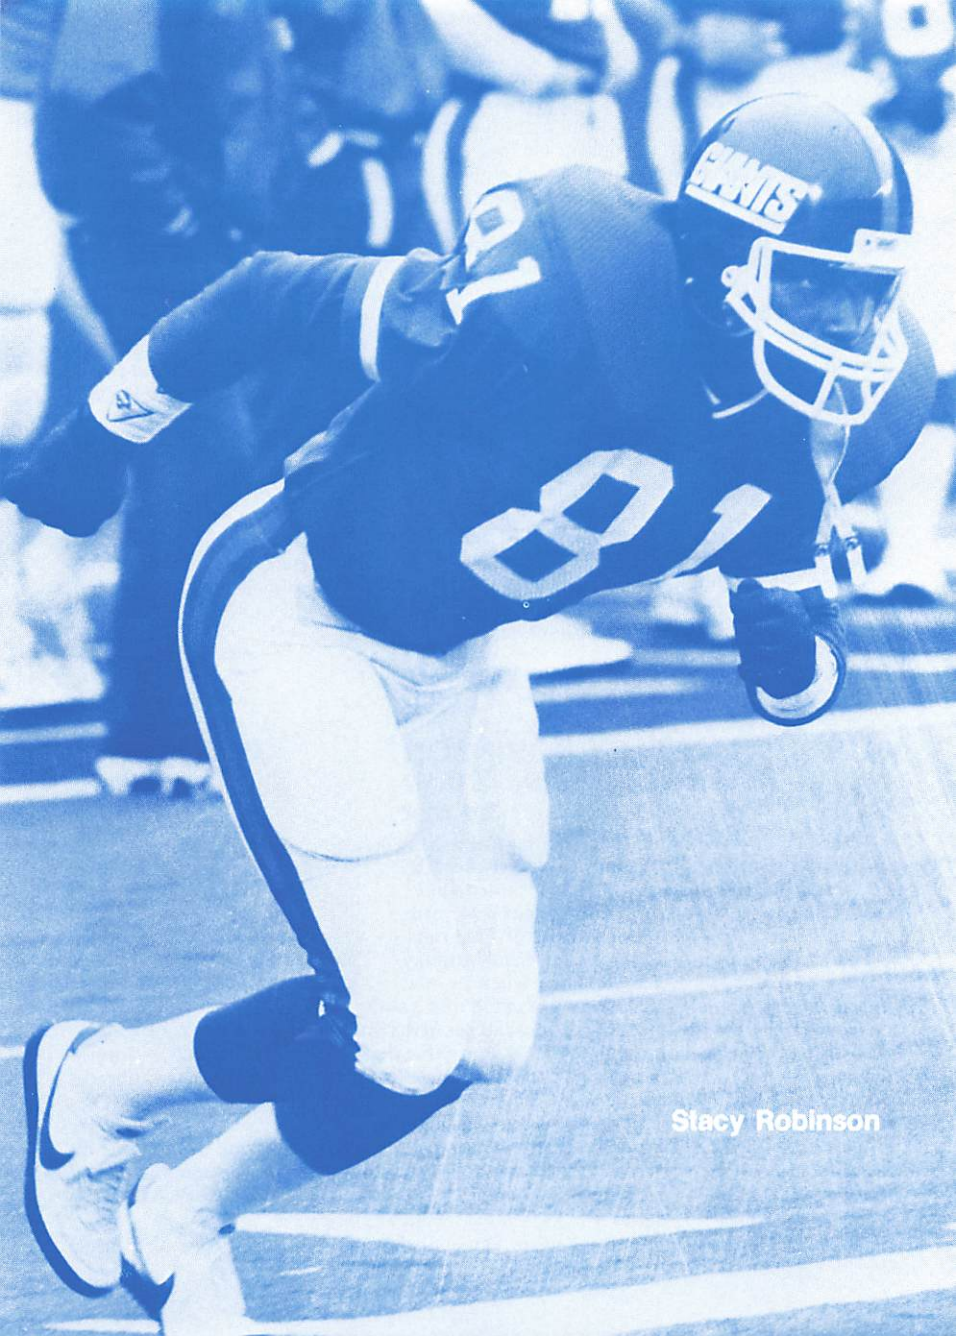

81 STACY ROBINSON

Wide Receiver No. Dakota State 2/19/62
5-11 186 D-2 '85 3rd Year

PRO: Stacy made an impact in his first full season in '86 after spending most of his rookie year on IR. Despite missing four games with a sprained ankle, he ended the season with 29 catches for 494 yards and a 17.0 average, and added a pair of TD grabs. He had perhaps his best outing in the crucial Monday Night comeback win over the 49ers when he had five receptions for 116 yards, one TD catch and another acrobatic grab which set up the winning TD. He also made three big catches in the Super Bowl win over the Broncos, with his 62 yards receiving leading the Giants in that department. As a rookie he showed outstanding potential during training camp and in the pre-season games, then suffered a broken hand two days before the regular season opener and spend the next 12 weeks on the injured reserve list. He was activated late in the year and appeared in the final four regular season games and both playoff outings in a reserve role. During the pre-season, Stacy had four receptions for 56 yards, including a clutch 19-yard reception on a fourth down play which kept alive a game-knotting TD drive vs. the Jets. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 10.

COLLEGE: Stacy began his collegiate career in football and track at Prairie View

Stacy Robinson

A&M in Texas, then switched to North Dakota State where he set NDS alltime records for receiving yardage, TD receptions and one-season and single game receiving yardage. He finished with 88 catches for 1,636 yards and 13 TDs in his three seasons, was named to the All-Conference team, then was named the MVP for the North in the Senior Bowl game after his final season. Also a letterman in track, he was the Division II NCAA sprint champion for two seasons, while also sweeping 55 and 100-meter dash championship twice in the Conference.

PERSONAL: Stacy Laddell Robinson was born in St. Paul, Minn. on February 19, 1962, and was an All-State selection in football at Central High School in his hometown, while also winning Minnesota State titles in both the 100 and 200 meters in track. He also starred in basketball and was his school's leading scorer for two seasons.

LEE ROUSON

Running Back
6-2 222

Colorado
D-8 '85

10/18/62
3rd Year

PRO: Rouson is one of those multi-talented players who contribute in several areas. As a backup running back to Joe Morris, his playing time there was obviously limited, yet he still came through with 179 yards rushing on 54 carries, and scored a pair of TDs vs. Green Bay. When Morris sat out the Saints' game due to illness, Lee filled in admirably with 71 yards rushing. He added eight pass receptions during the year, including a 37-yard TD catch vs. the Eagles, and was also a force on special teams, registering 13 tackles on kick coverages. Lee also saw extensive action in the post-season games, rushing for 52 yards on 12 carries for a 4.3 average, and his 18-yard run in the Super Bowl victory set up the final Giants' TD. He added three receptions for 45 yards in the playoffs and added two solo tackles on kick coverages. In 1985 Rouson proved to be a solid find in the 8th round, and produced a strong pre-season in which he showed flashes of excellence as a rusher, receiver and return specialist. He finished the pre-season with a 25.5 average on kickoff returns and showed his open field running ability with a dazzling 42-yard TD reception in a win over the Broncos. Lee then suffered a sprained knee in the final week of pre-season and went on the Injured Reserve list through the first 14 games of the regular season. He was activated for the final two games of the year, playing well on special teams with two kickoff returns for a 17.5 average and six tackles on kick coverages, then played strongly in the playoffs on special teams with a 25.3 average on kickoff returns, including a 42-yard return vs. the Bears, and a pair of tackles on kick coverages vs. the 49ers. GAMES PLAYED: 14, STARTED: 1.

COLLEGE: A four-year letterman at Colorado, Rouson had a productive career there, despite being shifted around in various backfield positions by changes in the coaching staff. He finished his career with 2,296 yards rushing, the fourth alltime mark at Colorado, and added 86 receptions, the third best mark, and was selected to the All-Big Eight second team and chosen to play in the Blue-Gray game after his senior season. He was also elected team captain in his senior year.

PERSONAL: Cecil Lee Rouson was born in Elizabeth City, N.C. on October 18, 1962 and had a standout scholastic background at Page High School in Greensboro, N.C. Lee was an All-Conference choice in football, basketball and baseball... was President of the Student Body, and the winner of the DAR's best all-around student award in his senior year.

17Quarterback*6-1*195*JEFF RUTLEDGE*Alabama*1/22/57*T- '82 (Rams)*9th Year

PRO: One of the most versatile backup quarterbacks in the NFL, Jeff has been a starter during his career with both the Giants and Rams, and has the ability to step in at any time and produce. With Phil Simms' hale, hearty and hellacious the past three years, Jeff hasn't had much opportunity to ply his trade, but nonetheless made several big plays in '86.

His only completion of the year was a 13-yard TD pass to Harry Carson on a fake field goal vs. the Eagles... he ran 18 yards for a first down on another fake field goal to set up a TD vs. the Packers... he completed a 23-yard pass to Mark Bavaro out of the shotgun to set up a TD in the playoff win over the 49ers... and in the Super Bowl victory, he dove two yards for the key first down on a fourth-down play vs. the Broncos which kept a TD drive alive at the start of the second half. Veteran backup QB didn't get to see any regular season action in '85 but appeared in every game as the holder for the placekickers, and worked a successful fake FG attempt with a pitchout which resulted in a TD by Jess Atkinson vs. the Bengals. A solid player, Jeff had an outstanding pre-season in 1985, completing 33-of-51 passes for 502 yards, a 64.8% completion mark, five TD throws and no interceptions. He had an equally as impressive pre-season performance in 1984 as well, but saw action in only one regular season game that year, completing his only pass attempt vs. the Los Angeles Rams. Although he saw action in only four games in 1983 (all as the starting QB), Rutledge made a solid impression. In his four starts, Jeff produced three 300-plus yardage games, including career highs of 29 completions in 52 attempts for 349 yards in Seattle, and 24 for 47 for 324 yards and a TD against the NFC champion Redskins in the season finale. Rutledge also fired away at a 14-for-29 for 325 yards and a pair of TD connections vs. Dallas, but suffered a kneecap injury in that game which cost him five weeks on the disabled list. Originally a 9th round draft pick of the Rams, Jeff spent three seasons with L.A., as a backup, then came to the Giants in a 1982 trade for a draft choice, but did not see any action. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Rutledge won four varsity letters at Alabama, as All-SEC twice and graduated with a degree in business education. While performing for Bear Bryant's club, Jeff threw 30 career touchdown passes to break the school record held previously by Joe Namath. Rutledge also played in three Sugar Bowl games and the Liberty Bowl in his four seasons, as well as in the East-West Shrine game and Senior Bowl after his senior year. He was also president of the Student Body at Alabama and was voted the most popular senior.

PERSONAL: Jeffrey Ronald Rutledge was born in Birmingham, Ala. on January 22, 1957 and was a football, basketball and baseball ace at Banks H.S. in his hometown. His father, Paul "Jack" Rutledge played major league baseball with the Chicago Cubs and Jeff was drafted by the Cubs out of high school but took the football scholarship to Alabama instead. Jeff and his wife, Laura, live in Huntington Beach, Calif. during the off-seasons with son Jeffrey Brooks and daughter Christen Leigh.

JEROME SALLY

Missouri 2/24/59
FA- '82 6th Year

PRO: Jerome has compiled some strong statistics during his career with the Giants, considering that he has played most of his career here as a reserve nose tackle. Despite that limited playing time, Sally has racked up 18½ quarterback sacks over that span, and is always around the ball whenever he has the opportunity to play. Last year, he finished with 28 total tackles and added 3½ quarterback traps, with only one starting assignment during the year when both Jim Burt and Erik Howard were injured. He's had a total of 143 tackles in his five seasons as a swingman, certainly an impressive total. Veteran reserve nose tackle came up with some big contributions in '85 as a reserve in both the three-man and four-man fronts, playing in all 16 games and finishing with 37 total tackles in that role. For the amount of playing time he logged, he had outstanding numbers in QB sacks, finishing with 7½, the fourth highest total on the club behind Leonard Marshall, Lawrence Taylor and George Martin. In 1984, when he had even less playing time behind Jim Burt, Sally finished that year with 10 tackles, including two QB sacks, and a forced fumble. Originally signed as a free agent by the New Orleans Saints in 1982, Sally was released late in training camp by the Saints and was in turn signed by the Giants. He saw action in four games late in that season, and in the regular season finale, had a starting job at nose tackle in the absence of the injured Bill Neill. In that outing against the Philadelphia Eagles, Sally played strongly, coming up with four tackles and a QB sack on Ron Jaworski. In 1983, Jerome moved into the starting nose tackle slot when both Bill Neill and Jim Burt were injured, and he turned in a strong showing the rest of the way, finishing with 63 total tackles, 4½ QB sacks, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 1.

COLLEGE: Jerome won four varsity letters in football at Missouri as a defensive tackle and nose guard, and while he didn't win any All-Star honors, nonetheless had some big individual game efforts. He was Big-8-Player of the Week in his senior season, also won senior player awards, and won a National defensive lineman of the week honor as well.

PERSONAL: Jerome Eli Sally was born in Chicago, Ill. on February 24, 1959 and comes from a family of 12 children. He was a schoolboy football star at Proviso East H.S. in Maywood, Ill., and earned a B.S. degree in Industrial Engineering at Missouri.

11PHIL SIMMS*Quarterback Morehead State 11/3/56*6-3 215 D-1 '79 9th Year

PRO: "Perhaps the best game ever played by a quarterback" seemed to be the consensus quote after Simms set an alltime NFL Super Bowl and playoff record with 88% completion on 22-for-25 passing for 268 yards and three touchdowns in the Giants' 39-20 conquest of Denver. For those superlative efforts, Phil was named MVP of Super Bowl XXI, just one year after being named MVP in the 1986 Pro Bowl. Those honors were justly deserved by Simms who has now strung together three outstanding seasons in succession after a series of misfortunes and injuries had plagued him earlier in his career. Simms' 1986 season was a masterful one as he led the club to a final team-record 17-2 mark, including 12 straight victories down the homestretch. He was never better than in a four-game crucial stretch late in the season when he (a) threw for 310 yards and hit a 4th and 21 completion in the final minute to set up the winning FG vs. Minnesota; (b) connected on a 46-yard completion in the final minute to set up the winning FG vs. Denver; (c) fired for 388 yards and two TDs to lead the Giants to a second-half victory over San Francisco; and (d) passed for 265 yards and three TDs in the crucial first-place battle with Washington. Once the Giants had won the NFC East crown, Simms then riddled the 49ers in the opening playoff with a club-record four TD passes in playoff action, throttled the Redskins with astute ball-control and a TD throw in the 17-0 NFC title game, and then riddled the Broncos in the Super Bowl. His post-season quarterback rating was an astounding 131.8 on 38-of-58 passing for a 65.5%, eight TD passes and no interceptions, and that brought his career playoff passing rating to 92.0, the third highest in NFL playoff history behind Bart Starr and Ken Anderson. He also set an alltime club record with his 15th 300-yard passing game during the year, and was rewarded by being named All-NFL and the NFL's Most Valuable Player by NEA. And he now has had 55 consecutive starts at QB over the past three seasons, the most of any NFL quarterback. Simms had another powerful season in 1985, adding several more club records to others he had set in 1984, chipped in with an alltime NFL record, and then capped his year by being named to the Pro Bowl where he was the starting QB for the NFC and won Most Valuable Player honors for leading a comeback victory with a trio of TD tosses. Phil set alltime club marks vs. Cincinnati when he threw 62 passes and completed 40, for 513 yards. In back-to-back games vs. the Cowboys and Bengals, Simms passed for 432 and 513 yards and those 945 passing yards in back-to-back games were the most ever in NFL history. In matching his previous season high of 22 TD passes, Simms had great consistency in TD throws, pitching for at least one TD pass in 14 of the 16 regular season games, then tossed for two more TDs in the big playoff victory over the 49ers. He had particular success during the year against NFC East rivals Dallas and St. Louis, throwing five TD passes against both of those clubs in the two meetings during the year, and his two-game passing yardage vs. Dallas in '85 added up to 761 yards. After missing virtually all of the '82 and '83 seasons because of injuries and the latter stages of the two seasons prior to that because of other injuries, Simms had his first full-season in 1984 and promptly rewrote the Giants' alltime once-season record book. In leading the Giants to a second-place finish in the NFC East and a trip to the playoffs, Simms set club season records for most completions (286); passing yardage, (4,044) and attempts (533), chalked up four 300-plus passing yardage games, and displayed outstanding toughness and leadership. Phil wasted no time showing that a two-year absence had not diminished his skills. In the season opener against the Eagles, Simms fired 23-of-30 for 409 yards, four touchdowns and no interceptions, then came back the following week to bomb the Cowboys with three more touchdown strikes. That 1984 performance fulfilled the promise that Simms had shown when the Giants made him their No. 1 draft choice in 1979 from little Morehead State in Kentucky. In his rookie season, Simms didn't see any action until the fifth week of the season in a relief stint vs. New Orleans. A week later, he made his initial NFL start vs. Tampa Bay and produced a win, then won his next three starts for four in a row, and had six wins in his first eight starts. Unheralded at the time of the draft, by season's end he was a unanimous All-NFL Rookie choice and runnerup for NFC Rookie of the Year. Then began a streak of misfortune for Simms. In 1980, he was on his way to setting club records when a shoulder separation flattened him for the final three games of the season. In 1981, it was the same story, with another shoulder separation knocking him out of the final five games and the playoffs, and in 1982, a knee injury in a pre-season game cost him the entire season. In 1983, he fractured a thumb in his first long appearance, and was out for a total of 14 games. Undaunted, Simms worked hard during that following off-season, won the starting job again, and, injury-free, had himself a banner '84 season. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Only the second Morehead State player to make it in the NFL (teammate Gary Shirk was the other), Simms set alltime college marks with 409 completions for 5,545 yards and 32 touchdowns at Morehead and also set single season marks with 370 yards vs. Tennessee Tech and four TD passes vs. Marshall, those one-game records coming in 1977. During his four varsity seasons, Phil was an honorable mention All-American by the Sporting News, and was named Offensive Player of the Year and first-team All-Conference in the Ohio Valley Conference as a junior...but made only second-team All-Conference as a senior when Morehead eschewed the passing game and opted for a ball-control offense.

PERSONAL: Philip Simms was born in Springfield, Ky., on November 3, 1956 and played his high school sports at Southern H.S. in Louisville as a QB in football and as a pitcher in baseball. Simms comes from a large family, which includes four brothers—William, Thomas, David and Joseph—and four sisters, Jeanette, Mary, Ann and Sara. Phil and his wife, Diana Fronfield, live in Franklin Lakes and have a son, Christopher and a daughter, Deirdre.

56Linebacker*LAWRENCE TAYLOR*North Carolina*2/4/59*6-3*243*D-1 '81*7th Year

PRO: Lawrence had a magnificent year in 1986, even by his own standards which are celestial. By the time he finally retires, he'll need a warehouse to store his ever-increasing collection of awards, and this past year's harvest may well have been his biggest. He set an alltime Giants' club record with 20½ quarterback sacks, had 105 total tackles and three forced fumbles, then added a 34-yard TD return with an interception in the playoff win over the 49ers. He was particularly destructive in the two big regular season wins over the Redskins with 18 tackles and six sacks in those two outings. By season's end, Lawrence of the Meadowlands had been a unanimous selection as the NFL's Most Valuable Player, the first time a defensive player had won that plum since Alan Page of the Vikings a decade ago. To add to that laurel, he was a unanimous All-NFL selection, a unanimous Pro Bowl selection and a starter for the sixth straight year, the Maxwell Trophy winner, the Kansas City 101 winner, and the Seagrams Award winner. While he had great success in the two key victories over the Redskins, L.T. was even more devastating in the two wins over the Philadelphia Eagles. In those two contests, he had an amazing 23 total tackles and seven QB sacks, with his four traps in the Oct. 12 win matching his one-game club record. In 1985 L.T. finished with 104 total tackles, registered 13½ QB sacks, had two fumble recoveries for 25 yards returned and had four forced fumbles. He added 20 tackles in the playoffs, including 10 solos and a QB sack in the victory over the 49ers. Lawrence began the season with a bang when he had nine solo stops and 2½ QB sacks in the 21-0 skunking of the Eagles, then was totally dominating in a crucial 17-3 win over the Redskins when he had 13 tackles and two QB sacks. He repeated those identical totals in the second meeting with the Redskins, this time adding a fumble recovery to his 13-tackle, 2-QB sacks stats. So far in his career with the Giants Taylor has played in 89 regular season games, yet in that relatively short period of time has reaped more individual honors than any other player in club history. Through his first six seasons with the club, Taylor has been a unanimous All-NFL selection in each of those years; a Pro Bowl starter in each of those seasons; has been voted the top linebacker in the NFL by the Players' Association for four of those seasons; has thrice been named the Associated Press' Most Valuable Defensive Player in the NFL and was runnerup a fourth time; and has added the NFL's Defensive Player of the Year award from Seagram's computer awards program twice. In short, there is no honor extant that Taylor has not justly won during his career with the Giants. Over that span, L.T. has amassed 636 tackles from his outside LB position, added 71½ quarterback sacks, recovered fumbles, forced fumbles, blocked PATs, ran over blockers, and generally made life totally miserable for opposing quarterbacks and running backs. He's also had five pass interceptions, one of which he returned 97 yards for a touchdown, the longest TD return by a linebacker in club history. And now for the good news. He's just reaching his prime and promises to get even better...if that's possible. The Giants' No. 1 draft pick in 1981, Lawrence was an instant smash from Day One. In his first pre-season training camp scrimmage, he had four QB sacks and a fumble recovery. In his first pre-season game vs. the Bears, he had 10 solo tackles, two QB sacks and a fumble recovery, and then in his regular season performance, helped lead the club to the playoffs for the first time since 1963 with big play after big play, including one-hand QB sacks, catching swift running backs from behind for losses, and any other number of eye-catching accomplishments. At 6-3 and 243 pounds, he can still run 4.5 in the 40; is one of the strongest players on the club, and spent part of this past off-season playing basketball, scoring as many as 60 points in several games. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Taylor was a consensus All-American at North Carolina and was the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year in 1980. In his final season, of his 69 solo tackles, 22 were for losses behind the line of scrimmage and 16 were QB sacks. Originally a nose guard on defense at North Carolina, he eventually moved to OLB/DE in his final seasons and finished his career with 192 tackles, 21 QB sacks, 10 forced fumbles, three interceptions and three fumble recoveries and was selected for both the East-West Shrine game and Japan Bowl.

PERSONAL: Lawrence Taylor was born on February 4, 1959 in Williamsburg, Va., and played his scholastic sports at Lafayette H.S. in Williamsburg, where he was a 5-10, 180-pounder in his junior year. Also excelled in both basketball and baseball. Lawrence, his wife Linda, and their three youngsters Paula, Tanisha and T.J., now live in Upper Saddle River, N.J. He has also become an outstanding golfer, getting his handicap down to an eight, and his massive tee-shots are getting to be legendary.

83 VINCE WARREN
Wide Receiver San Diego State 2/18/63
6-0 180 D-5 '86 2nd Year

PRO: Warren showed some promise during the pre-season in his rookie year, coming up with four receptions for 69 yards, including a 22-yarder vs. Atlanta, but then suffered a leg injury and was on injured reserve for the first six games of the season. He was activated at that point when the Giants were low on WR's, and played in four regular season outings, although he did not have a reception. He was subsequently waived, and then re-signed for 1987, where he'll get another chance in this coming season's pre-season training camp. GAMES PLAYED: 4, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Vince earned four varsity letters at San Diego State and was a starter for three of those years, finishing his career with 105 catches for 2,164 yards and a 20.6 average-per-catch, with TD receptions of 84, 79 and 78 yards during that span. That receiving yardage was the third highest in Aztec history, surpassing the yardage of former SDSU receivers Gary Garrison, Haven Moses and Ken Burrow, all of whom played in the NFL. Warren once had 10 catches in a game, for 129 yards, vs. Texas El-Paso. He had 38 for 788 yards and five TDs in his senior year when he was named to the All-WAC first-team and selected to play in the Japan Bowl.

PERSONAL: Vincent L. Warren was born in Little Rock, Ark., on February 18, 1963, and starred scholastically at El Dorado High School in Albuquerque, N. Mex., where he played tailback and rushed for 1,537 yards and 22 TDs in his senior year as El Dorado won the state championship. Warren's QB on that high school team was Jim Everett, now with the Los Angeles Rams.

73 JOHN WASHINGTON

Defensive End Oklahoma State 2/20/63

6-4 275 D-3 '86 2nd Year

PRO: Big and strong defensive end enjoyed a solid pre-season in his rookie year, coming up with a pair of quarterback sacks in the pre-season opener vs. the Atlanta Falcons. He then played in all 16 regular season games as a reserve DE and special teams' player, though he was used only sparingly, coming up with a total of two solo tackles during the year. He suffered a hamstring injury in the final regular season game and missed the playoffs and Super Bowl while on injured reserve. Completely recovered, he worked hard during the off-season, and should be ready to put in another strong performance in this year's training camp. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Washington earned three varsity letters at Oklahoma State as both a nose tackle and defensive end, and was a starter in all three of those seasons, winning All-Big Eight honors in both 1984 and '85, as well as honorable mention All-American in his senior year. He finished his career with 241 total tackles, 28 for losses, and added 23 quarterback sacks as well as 57 QB pressures. He was elected team co-captain in his senior year and starred in the Gator Bowl.

PERSONAL: John Earl Washington was born in Houston, Tex., on February 20, 1963 and won six varsity letters in football and baseball at Sterling High School in Houston. Twice an All-Conference selection in football, he was also a scholastic All-American in baseball as a pitcher-infielder. Married to the former Terri Stinson, he has a daughter, Charmaine, 5.

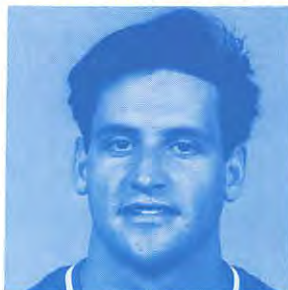

27 HERB WELCH

Safety UCLA 1/12/61

5-11 180 D-12 '85 3rd Year

PRO: Herb saw action in every game in '86, including the last two games of the regular season and all of the post-season games as the starting free safety when Terry Kinard went down with a major knee injury. He performed admirably as the replacement, finishing the regular season with 37 total tackles and coming up with a pair of pass interceptions in the two wins over the Redskins, and adding a fumble recovery. He added 11 more tackles in the playoffs and Super Bowl, and had an interception in the opening playoff romp over the 49ers. Prior to getting the starting nod late in the season, Herb had done a solid job as the nickel back in passing situations and had also contributed on special teams. In his rookie year, Welch turned in a strong pre-season performance as a 12th round draft choice, capping that portion of the year with a seven-tackle performance vs. the Steelers, adding an interception as well, and that helped him make the club as a reserve safety and special teams' player. He appeared in all 16 regular season games and in both of the playoffs in those roles, and along the way came up with the two key pass interceptions vs. the Redskins and Cardinals. He finished the regular season with 22 total tackles and added three more in the playoff outings. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 2.

COLLEGE: Herb began his collegiate career at Cerritos Junior College where he was an All-American and Conference MVP choice. He then played both safety and corner at UCLA for the following two seasons and was a starter in two Rose Bowl games. While in junior college, Welch once returned four punts for touchdowns and a kickoff for a fifth return TD in one season.

PERSONAL: Herbert D. Welch was born in Los Angeles, Calif., on January 12, 1961 and starred in football and track at Warren High School in Downey, Calif. He earned a B.A. in History from UCLA. Welch's father, Herb Sr., played baseball for the Chicago White Sox.

PERRY WILLIAMS

Cornerback No. Carolina State 5/12/61
6-2 200 D-7 '83 4th Year

PRO: Perry had a strong season in '86, playing the right corner with gusto against the run, and coming up with a career high four interceptions for 31 yards returned. He also chipped in with a quarterback sack and a forced fumble along the way and with his outstanding speed and covering ability, discouraged teams from throwing at him a lot. He finished the regular season with 57 total tackles, most of them of the jarring variety, then added six more stops in the post-season games. Swift, hard-hitting cornerback enjoyed his second straight complete season as the starter on the right side in '85, finishing the year with 66 total tackles, a pair of QB sacks, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble as well as two pass interceptions vs. the Redskins and Oilers. He added a half-dozen tackles in the playoff games. After spending his rookie season on Injured Reserve, Perry won the starting right corner job almost from the outset of 1984 then turned in a superb rookie campaign, winning All-NFL Rookie team honors from Football Digest. He played in every game during the season and in the playoffs, finishing with 39 tackles, a fumble recovery and three pass interceptions in the regular season. Blessed with good size and outstanding speed (he's clocked 4.38 in the 40), Perry has the potential to become a Pro Bowl type player. Williams was enjoying an outstanding training camp and pre-season in '83 as a 7th round draft choice, displaying great speed, hitting ability and coverage capabilities, then suffered a stress fracture of his foot after the second pre-season game and went on Injured Reserve for the rest of the season. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Perry was a three-year starter for the Wolfpack at cornerback, and during his career at N.C. State, had 182 total tackles, six interceptions and 23 pass deflections. Clocking in 4.39 for the 40-yard dash, Williams also earned varsity letters in track where he was the Atlantic Coast Conference 200-meter champion with a 21.0 clocking. He was the anchorman on State's 400 and 800-meter relay teams which won first-place honors in both events in the 1982 Penn Relays. He majored in Humanities and Social Sciences.

PERSONAL: Perry Lamar Williams was born in Hamlet, N.C. on May 12, 1961, and was a scholastic standout at Richmond High School in Rockingham, N.C. where he was All-Conference and team captain in football, leading his school to a 12-2 record and the State championship in his senior year. He was also a star in track and baseball in high school and still resides in Hamlet during the off-seasons.

1987 DRAFTED ROOKIES

MARK INGRAM Wide Receiver Michigan State Round One 5-11 188

An outstanding big-play receiver, Mark was considered to be the Spartans' "game-breaker" by coach George Perles and the Giants obviously agreed with the Perles' observation since Ingram becomes the first wide receiver ever selected by the Giants as their No. 1 draft choice in club history. In filling a need at that position, Ingram brings the attributes required excellent hands, quickness and speed (4.5 in the 40) and the production as well with 95 career receptions for 1,944 yards, an impressive 20.5 average per catch and 14 touchdown receptions. He won All-Big 10 honors in 1986, was the team senior MVP on offense and was selected to play in both the East-West and Blue-Gray post season games. In the latter contest, Mark won offensive MVP honors by leading the Blue team to a 31-7 victory with nine receptions for 106 yards and two touchdowns and he had six catches for 91 yards for the East team in a 24-21 loss in that contest. Those performances capped a solid senior season for Ingram. All told in '86, Mark had 35 pass receptions for 672 yards and a 19.5 average, with five TD catches, and displayed his running ability with 12 rushing attempts for 135 yards, including a 71-yard TD jaunt vs. Illinois, and 17 kickoff returns for 359 yards and a 21.1 average per return. All of this prompted Perles, a former NFL assistant coach with the Pittsburgh Steelers, to compare Ingram favorably with former Steelers WR Lynn Swann and current Steelers WR Louis Lipps. What impressed the pro scouts, in addition to that speed, quickness and soft hands, was Mark's ability to read defenses and his quick burst into cuts. He also worked hard on improving his blocking techniques and by his senior season was rated as one of the Spartans' better blockers, certainly an added quality in his overall effectiveness. Born on August 23, 1965 in Rockford, Ill., Mark subsequently moved to Michigan and was a standout scholastic star at Northwestern High School in Flint where he was an All-State quarterback, leading his school to city and conference titles, passing for 1,000 yards and 13 TDs in his senior year. He also excelled as a sprinter, hurdler and long jumper in track. He moved to wide receiver in his freshman year at MSU, earning a varsity letter as a reserve, then blossomed as a soph, winning All-Big 10 honorable mention with 22 catches for a 22.7 average and four TDs. He was the Spartans' leading receiver in his junior year with 31 for a 21.8 average and then had that big senior season. He now ranks third in MSU career receiving yardage and second in career yards per catch. He also had 13 career catches of 40 yards or longer, including nine of 50 or longer. Mark majored in Communications at MSU.

ADRIAN WHITE

Safety
Florida

Round Two
6-0 200

A second-team All-American and first-team All-SEC selection, White is highly regarded as a prototype safety with attention-getting skills...strong enough to contain the run as an explosive hitter and 400-pound bench-presser, and swift enough to cover receivers with 4.35 speed in the 40. All of the scouts were impressed with his superior instincts for playing the safety position, not only for that unusual strength and speed, but for his on-the-field intelligence and exceptional catch-up swiftness and leaping ability. All of those attributes combined to make Adrian a three-year starter at Florida and both the strong and free safety slots. White began his collegiate career at Southern Illinois where he had 36 tackles and an interception as a freshman there, then transferred to Florida where he became an instant starter in 1984 at strong safety. He finished that season at free safety when injuries cropped up in the secondary and finished with 56 tackles, a pair of QB sacks and a clutch end zone interception vs. Kentucky to clinch the SEC title for Florida that season. In 1985 he was again at free safety and won All-SEC second-team honors and had some big games that season, including eight solo stops in a 35-23 win over Miami and a thunderous hit on Bo Jackson that forced a fumble which set up the Gators' winning TD in a 14-10 victory over Auburn. This past season, White was back at strong safety, finishing with 62 total tackles (47 solos), added a pair of fumble recoveries and three interceptions with one of the swipes going for a 30-yard TD return vs. Mississippi State. A key stat in his final year was that he did not allow a TD pass in his coverage all season long, nor more than two receptions by any player in that coverage. In addition to his All-American and All-SEC honors, Adrian was also selected to play in the Blue-Gray game. Born on April 6, 1964, White was an All-Conference defensive back and track letterman at Orange Park High School in Florida. Majored in Physical Education.

STEPHEN BAKER

Wide Receiver>Returns Round Three
Fresno State 5-7½ 160

Diminutive, but dynamic, Baker earned the nickname "The Touchdown Maker" during his two seasons at Fresno State, posing a threat to score every time he touched the ball, whether catching passes, returning punts or running reverses. With 4.35 speed in the 40, excellent hands and superior jumping ability, Baker burned opponents for 62 receptions for 1,629 yards and an eye-popping 26.3 yards per catch in his two years at FSU, while adding 146 yards rushing and a 10.4 average and 58 punt returns for 654 yards and an 11.3 average. All told, he scored 16 touchdowns, 10 on receptions, three on reverses and three on punt returns, including such long-distance jaunts of 95 and 84 yards with receptions and 84 and 77 yards on punt returns for scores. This past season, Baker won All-Pacific Coast Athletic Association first-team honors for the second straight year and was also chosen for the Blue-Gray and Japan Bowl post-season all-star games. He caught a 36-yard TD pass in the final two minutes of play to lead the West to a 24-17 win in the Japan Bowl and was named MVP in that game with his six catches for 93 yards and the winning score. Despite the fact he played only two years at Fresno, Baker set alltime school records for yards per catch with that 26.3 mark and in punt return yardage with 654. Among his senior year superlatives, Stephen had four receptions for 170 yards and three TDs vs. San Jose State, including an 84-yard TD bomb, then had a 64-yard scoring catch and a 65-yard punt return for a TD against Nevada-Las Vegas. As a junior, he averaged a smashing 29.1 per catch and against Long Beach State amassed 214 yards receiving on just six catches. All of this followed an All-American Junior College rating at West Los Angeles J.C. where Baker piled up 105 catches for 2,145 yards and 31 touchdowns in just two seasons at that school, with the 31 TDs just one short of the alltime national JUCO record. Born on August 30, 1964 in San Antonio, Tex., he played his scholastic sports at Hamilton H.S. in Los Angeles where he won All-City and Conference honors in football, track and gymnastics.

ODESSA TURNER

Wide Receiver

Round Four

N.W. Louisiana State

6-3

Versatility is the key word for this multi-talented player. An honorable mention All-American all All-Conference first-team wide receiver for two years, he made the switch to defensive safety in his senior year and won All-Conference first-team honors on defense thus becoming the only player in Gulf Star Conference history to be named to first-team status on both offense and defense. Additionally, Turner also became the first player in conference history to win similar honors from the Louisiana Sportswriters Association, no mean feat in Bayou country. For openers at Northwestern Louisiana, where Giants' linebacker Gary Reasons hails from, Turner won All-Conference honors in both '84 and '85 as a wide receiver, utilizing his outstanding size and speed (4.5 in the 40) to total 46 catches for 764 yards, a 16.6 yards per catch average and eight TDs, including a pair of 71-yard bombs. He also doubled as a kickoff return man, hauling back 11 for 278 yards and a nifty 25.3 average. This past year, when the ranks of defensive backs grew slimmer, Turner was asked to shift to safety and did so with gusto. Roaming the secondary as the free safety, Odessa led the club in tackles with 62, had three tackles for losses, a pair of quarterback sacks, two forced fumbles and four interceptions, thus winning those All-Conference honors at free safety to go along with his previous offensive honors. He also found time to do some double duty at wide receiver in certain situations, thus making him that rarity of a two-way player, and he had 10 more receptions for 136 yards and one TD grab. While the Giants were impressed with his defensive work, he'll be used at WR strictly. Born on October 12, 1964, Odessa was a standout high school athlete at Wossman H.S. in Monroe, La., where he was an All-State choice as a wide receiver and defensive back. He majored in physical education at NWLS.

PAUL O'CONNOR

Guard
Miami

Round Five
6-3 270

Rugged and powerful, O'Connor hails from almost shouting distance of Giants Stadium. He's a product of Livingston Regional High School and lives in Berkeley Heights, N.J., the same town in which current starting guard Chris Godfrey lives. A fifth-year senior this past season, Paul had his best season ever for the Hurricanes, winning first-team All-South honors as well as honorable mention on several All-American teams, and was also selected to play in the Hula Bowl after the season. During the year, O'Connor was second to All-American Gregg Rakoczy with a 90% blocking grade given by the Miami coaching staff and won conference Offensive Lineman of the Week honors against West Virginia when he had 14 knockdowns and eight downfield blocks in a big Miami victory which included 263 yards rushing. He also had one of the year's titanic blocks when he caved in three Penn State defenders on one play for Miami's long TD in the 14-10 Fiesta Bowl setback. Paul first began to show his prowess in his junior season when he moved into the starting lineup after his dedicated efforts in a rigid weight training program had added 30 pounds to his frame. He started in every game in '85, including the Sugar Bowl game vs. Tennessee, after a sophomore season in which he was a reserve guard who saw some action in every game. As a freshman letter winner in 1983, he suffered a shoulder injury which kept him out of action through most of that year. He was a red-shirt freshman in 1982 as a defensive lineman, then made the switch to offense in the following season when he suffered the shoulder injury. He then began his weight training program and built himself up from 240 and the starting job over the last two seasons. Born on November 7, 1962, O'Connor was an All-State two-way lineman at Livingston H.S. and was also an outstanding wrestler. Paul and his wife, Caryn, are the parents of a daughter, Shauna.

TIM RICHARDSON

Running Back
Pacific

Round Six
6-0 215

Richardson is an interesting prospect, despite having had a fragmented collegiate career due to transfer and a season lost to injury. Initially, Tim began his collegiate career at Purdue University, earning a varsity letter with the Boilermakers as a freshman reserve RB. Then he transferred to Pacific and sat out the '84 season as a red-shirt before winning the starting fullback job with outstanding Spring drills and scrimmages. In his first start for Pacific in 1985, he made an auspicious debut by rushing for 76 yards and three touchdowns against Sacramento State, but then in the second game vs. Utah State, he suffered a broken clavicle and was out for the remainder of the season. He bounced back again in the following Spring sessions, this time switching to halfback and winning the starting job there. Thus given the opportunity to finally prove himself, he had an outstanding season, despite UOP's final 4-7 record. An extremely punishing runner with good speed, Tim had 724 yards rushing on 129 carries for a solid 5-4 average and scored four touchdowns. He had a big day against Cal State-Fullerton with 18 carries for 114 yards and a 43-yard TD romp. He added seven pass receptions for another 66 yards and a TD and a pair of two-point conversions on runs for 34 total points on the season. An engineering major, Richardson had a brilliant scholastic record at Lanphier High School in Springfield, Ill. where he was born on February 23, 1964. The winner of nine varsity letters in football, track and wrestling, Richardson won All-State honors in football and All-Conference in track. He had 1,117 yards rushing in his senior year and returned four kickoffs for TDs, the shortest of which was 89 yards. He was also an Honor Roll student, graduating 38th in a class of 465 and was class president in his sophomore, junior and senior years. Tim's brother, Dace, a halfback from Western Illinois, was a FA with the Giants in the 1981 training camp.

DOUG RIESENBERG

Tackle California

Round Six (A)

6-5

Here's another highly interesting prospect who began his collegiate career as a defensive tackle, then made the switch to offensive tackle in his senior year without missing a beat. After three seasons as a DT, Doug was moved to the other side of the ball because the Cal coaching staff felt his greatest potential was at offensive tackle. "He'll be a prime time player on offense" predicted head man Joe Kapp, and he proved to be a seer of note. By season's end, Riesenberger had won All-Pac 10 honors, received a 90% blocking grade by the coaches in just his first season at OLT, and earned himself a spot in the Blue-Gray post-season game where he impressed pro scouts considerably in helping the Blue squad to a 31-7 victory, particularly when he blasted two defenders out of the way on a Paul Palmer 2-yard touchdown drive. Doug displayed excellent foot movement and mobility at the position, developing into a strong pass blocker, and was termed a dedicated athlete with exemplary work habits. A steady visitor to the weight room, he bench presses 400 pounds. Prior to his offensive heroics, Doug had started 20 of 22 games at defensive left tackle earlier at Cal and had accumulated 99 tackles during that period, including nine tackles for losses and a half-dozen quarterback sacks. An Electrical Engineering major who also studied Computer Science, Riesenberger went to Cal as one of the most highly recruited scholastics in the country with offers from dozens of colleges, including Penn State and Arkansas. Born on July 22, 1965 in Iowa, he also lived in Minneapolis before starring scholastically at Moscow High School in Idaho where he was All-American in football and track and All-Conference in basketball. He was additionally an Honor Roll student and class officer. Doug's father, Louis, is a professor and department chairman at the University of Idaho.

ROD JONES

Round Eight

Tight End
Washington

6-4

240

Big and strong tight end had two back-to-back stand-out seasons for the Huskies after being plagued by assortment of nicks in his first two campaigns. Concluded his senior season with 31 receptions for 309 yards and five touchdowns and was named to the first-team All-Pac 10 and to the AP All-American American honorable mention list. He added three catches in the Sun Bowl loss to Alabama, then was selected to play in the East-West Shrine game where he was elected a co-captain of the West squad. An outstanding blocker, much in the mold of Mark Bavaro and Zeke Mowatt, Rod had key receptions and TD grabs in victories over BYU, Oregon and California, while also making the key grab to set up the knotting FG in a 17-17 draw with UCLA. As a junior in '85, Jones also won All-Pac 10 honors, and in that season had 33 receptions for 315 yards, including six for 54 yards in a victory over Washington State. Jones looked like he was going to have an opportunity to be a starter as far back as his freshman year, but he suffered a broken bone in his lower right leg that season, sat out the entire '83 campaign, and was then used only as a reserve in '84 when he had 11 catches for 61 yards. All told, his 75 career receptions ranks him 7th on the Huskies alltime receivers list, while also being the No. 1 alltime receiver among tight ends at the school. Rod was born on March 3, 1964 in Richmond, Calif., and was a scholastic star in football and wrestling at El Cerrito H.S. in Richmond. He had the distinction of being the only player in his Conference to be named first-team All-League on both offense (tight end) and defense (defensive end), and won his league's heavyweight wrestling championship two years in a row, while also finishing fourth in the state heavyweight division. He majored in Afro-American studies, while also concentrating on Justice & Society studies.

STAN PARKER

Round Nine

Guard
Nebraska

One of the big reasons why Nebraska averaged a stunning 305 yards rushing per game in 1986 was the powerful work of left guard Parker. He emerged as perhaps the premier pulling guard in collegiate football last season, earning an amazing 94% blocking grade for the year from his coaching staff. With excellent speed and agility, Parker also improved his pass blocking techniques considerably during the year and was regarded as the Huskers' top overall blocker. Originally recruited as a tight end, the position at which he was an All-State performer in high school, Stan played TE for Nebraska's junior varsity in 1983 before making the switch to offensive line in '84. He played that season as a reserve, winning his first varsity letter, then worked diligently in the weight room and upped his weight some 25 pounds to his present 272-pound frame. In '85, Parker played in every game at right guard, including the Sugar Bowl, and this past year was moved to the left guard starting position where he could utilize his 4.8 speed even more. The move paid off as Parker had his top season, winning All Big-Eight honors, as well as honorable mention All-American. Additionally, he was selected to play in the Senior Bowl after playing a key role in the Huskers' 30-15 win over LSU in this past Sugar Bowl outing. He had any number of productive outings during the year and one of his most devastating downfield blocks wiped out three Illinois defenders on a 78-yard TD romp by Keith Jones. Also one of the strongest players at Nebraska, Parker used that strength to dominate at the line of scrimmage and his unusual speed to get out in front of ball carriers and do serious damage downfield. Born on March 19, 1964 in Moses Lake, Wash., Stan was an All-American TE and LB at East High School in Bellevue, Neb., won honors in track with a 196'6" discus throw, and was the Nebraska State H.S. heavyweight wrestling champion in 1982.

DANA WRIGHT

Running Back
Findlay College

Round Nine (A) 6-1 210

Prodigious is the word that best describes the production that Wright wreaked at Findlay during his three seasons of pulverizing opposing defenses. His three-year statistics show 3,345 yards rushing on 490 carries for a dazzling 6.8 average per rush; 44 pass receptions and 41 total touchdowns. Those rushing stats for a total of 30 games by Wright averages out to 111.5 yards per game over that career, and in the process, he set alltime school records both for career and single season. His record setting single season harvest came in 1985 when he powered his way to 1,824 yards in 11 games and averaged 8.2 yards per carry while scoring a total of 16 touchdowns. For that kind of year, he was named to the first-team Kodak All-American team, as well as to the NAIA All-American squad. He did all this with excellent speed...a hard runner with quick upfield moves who also developed into a dangerous receiver coming out of the backfield. This past season, his production was down somewhat, but he did manage to rush for 896 yards in just nine games and had 14 touchdowns, winning NAIA All-American honors again. He was also selected to play in the Senior Bowl, and despite competing against Division I players, he made a strong impression on the pro scouts, not only with his performance in the Senior Bowl game, but during his workouts at the Indianapolis combines. Wright's first varsity season at Findlay in 1984 saw him average 7.4 yards per carry and 625 yards rushing. Born on June 2, 1963 in Ravenna, Ohio, Dana was an outstanding scholastic athlete at Theodore Roosevelt High School in Kent, Ohio, winning letters in football, basketball and track. He's also delighted to be getting a chance with the Giants, since he lists Lawrence Taylor as his "alltime idol."

CHUCK FAUCETTE

Linebacker Maryland

Round Ten
6-3 238

Robust and active inside linebacker had a powerful career with the Terrapins, capping his four varsity seasons by being named to one All-American first-team and to the first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference for a second straight year. Additionally, he was selected to play in both the Blue-Gray and East-West Shrine games and further distinguished himself by racking up 11 tackles and a fumble recovery in the first mentioned game and 10 tackles in the latter. None of that was surprising since Chuck has had the reputation for being an extremely physical ILB who combined instinct and hostility to account for a stunning career total of 467 tackles over his four campaigns. Along with the plethora of pummelings, Faucette added seven pass interceptions to prove his agility, five fumble recoveries, five QB sacks and 15 tackles for losses behind the line of scrimmage. Among his senior year superlatives were a career high of 27 tackles in one game (vs. Wake Forest) and 25 in another (Clemson). It's no great surprise, therefore, that Faucette lists Dick Butkus as his sports idol, since he's fashioned his own style of play after the former Bears' bruiser. Born on October 7, 1963 in Levittown, Pa., Faucette was a standout scholastic star at Willingboro High School in Willingboro, N.J. as captain of both the football and baseball teams. He turned down a football scholarship offer to UCLA to sign with the Toronto Blue Jays, then spent two full seasons in the Blue Jays' minor league farm system as a catcher. When he then decided that football was more to his liking, he entered Maryland and was a starter right away, winning ACC Rookie of the Week honors in a win over Pitt. A Finance major, Chuck was elected captain in his senior year, and those 467 total tackles are an alltime Maryland school record. Faucette was married this past January to the former Carolyn Cassanese.

DAVE WALTER

Quarterback
Michigan Tech

Round Eleven
6-3 225

Big, strong Division II quarterback set a bundle of records during his four seasons with the Huskies, including just about every Michigan Tech standard, and a couple of alltime NCAA Division II records as well. One of those NCAA records was set this past season when Walter was in on an astounding 85 plays against Ferris State, rushing 22 times for 120 yards and two touchdowns and completing 30 of 63 passes for 369 yards and four more TDs!! His other Division II record is total plays in a career, a gaudy total of 1,660 during those four seasons. Categorized, his four-year stats showed 581 rushing attempts for 1,469 yards and 28 touchdowns, and 545 pass completions in 1,079 attempts for 6,876 yards and 48 TDs. As far as his alltime Michigan Tech records are concerned, Dave set no less than 20 during his sparkling career, and along the way also won such honors as team MVP three times and All-Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference honors thrice as well. He was also named as the Huskies' Scholar-Athlete Award winner three times for a 3.41 GPA in mechanical engineering, class president, Dean's list and Academic All-American. Born on December 9, 1964 in West Branch, Mich., Dave was a scholastic whiz at Meridian High School in Sanford, Mich., winning All-Conference honors as a tight end before switching to quarterback in his senior year, when he again made All-Conference. Additionally, he won letters in basketball and baseball, was president of the National Honor Society, valedictorian of the senior class and a trumpet player in the band! An avid chess player and water skier, Dave has also spent summers working deep sea fishing charters in Texas. He's also recently become a golfer, and judging by his other accomplishments, should be fairly adept at that before long.

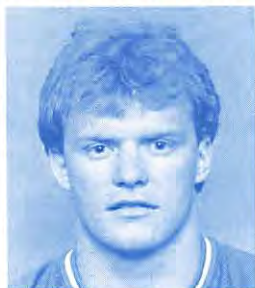

Defensive Tackle
Iowa State

BILL BERTHUSEN
Round Twelve
6-5 285

A four-year letterman with the Cyclones, Berthusen combined great size with strength, speed and an aggressive style of play, particularly in his last two seasons when he was a solid starter who was usually underrated by opponents. With 21 consecutive starts over those final two campaigns, Berthusen won honorable mention All-Big Eight honors in his senior season when he had 73 total tackles, including six for 28 yards of losses behind the line of scrimmage and four quarterback sacks for another 22 yards. Along the way, he also had a pair of pass deflections, had a forced fumble, and also made a fumble recovery in the end zone for a touchdown, the first of his career. He had perhaps his best game of the year against Missouri in a 37-14 victory, recording his season high of 13 tackles. As a junior, Berthusen had a total of 56 tackles, added a pair of key fumble recoveries and had four pass deflections, with a season-high nine tackles in a victory over Kansas. All told, he concluded his career at Iowa State with 174 tackles (109 solos), added 14 tackles for losses, six quarterback sacks, seven pass deflections and three fumble recoveries. Born on June 26, 1964 in Grinnell, Iowa, Berthusen began his scholastic career at Marshalltown High School in Marshalltown, Iowa, as a fullback, winning All-Conference honors, team MVP designation and mention in Blue Chip Magazine as one of the top prospects in the country. A product of the old Punt, Pass & Kick competitions, he was also an outstanding first-baseman on Marshalltown's state championship baseball team. He's graduating from Iowa State with a BBA degree and major in finance, is married to the former Rebecca Blair and has a son, Jacob, born this past April. He's been clocked in 4.8 for the 40, has a 23" vertical leap and has bench pressed 395 pounds.

Running Back
North Dakota State

CHAD STARK
Round Twelve (A)
6-1 230

Productive is the word for Stark, who seems to be cut from the same mold as former Giants' running back Rob Carpenter. Not only does Chad physically resemble Carpenter in size and looks, but he also has the reputation of piling up the tough yards running inside the tackles that Carpenter personified. A four-year starter at this Division II school which has already sent the Giants offensive coordinator Ron Erhardt and wide receiver Stacy Robinson, Stark averaged a sturdy 8.5 yards-per-carry this past season on 857 yards, an alltime school record. That production earned him second-team All-American recognition, first-team All-North Central Conference honors, and a trip to the East-West Shrine game where he played extremely well in competition with Division I players. All told, Chad's four-year stats showed 2,856 yards rushing, the second highest in NDSU history, and his 7.0 average-per-rush for his career is an alltime school record. He had 30 touchdowns rushing over this span, had a total of 15 games in which he rushed for 100 or more yards, and set a Division II alltime record for rushing yardage in career playoff games, a total of 1,082 yards in 12 playoff games over his four-year career. He also holds the school record of 221 yards rushing in one game (vs. Mankato State in '85), and has been named to the All-NCC Academic team three times with his 3.21 GPA in business administration. Born on April 4, 1964 in Dubuque, Iowa, Chad attended high schools in Belmond, Iowa; Luverne, Minn.; and Brookings, So. Dak.

The 1986 SEASON IN REVIEW

September 8

Cowboys 31, Giants 28 (59,804)

At Texas Stadium

Phil Simms tossed three touchdown passes, two of which were snagged by WR Bobby Johnson on this opening Monday Night game, but it was USFL refugee Herschel Walker who led the Cowboys to victory. Dallas scored first on a 36-yard catch and run by Tony Dorsett in the second quarter and later on a one-yard dive by Walker. The Giants answered with Johnson's first TD, a 13-yard catch and WR Stacy Robinson's three-yard grab to tie the game at 14. Dallas led 17-14 at halftime but in the third quarter Walker fumbled deep in Cowboy territory and Joe Morris scored five plays later on a two-yard run. Dallas regained the lead in the fourth quarter 24-21 but Johnson once again came through with a 44-yard touchdown catch and a 28-24 lead. With under 2:00 to go in the game, the Cowboys drove to the Giants 10-yard line where Walker took it in for the deciding score. Simms finished the night completing 22 of 45 for 300 yards while Morris, who held out all of training camp, rushed for 87 yards.

October 5 GIANTS 13, St. Louis 6 (40,562) At St. Louis

The Giants offense decided to take the afternoon off as they accumulated just 144 total yards but two Raul Allegre field goals and a Joe Morris one-yard plunge were enough to get by the stingy Cardinals. Once again, the defense rose to the occasion as they limited St. Louis to just 241 yards and pummeled QB Neil Lomax for seven sacks. Leading the way for the defense were Lawrence Taylor (six tackles, two sacks), Carl Banks (10 tackles, two sacks) and Leonard Marshall (six tackles, two sacks).

October 12 GIANTS 35, Philadelphia 3 (74,221) At Giants Stadium

After a dismal output a week earlier in St. Louis, the Giants offense exploded, racking up 35 points and nearly 400 yards worth of real estate. Leading the charge were Phil Simms who tossed two touchdown passes and the running game which chalked up 178 yards. The contest was highlighted by a fake field goal in the third quarter when holder Jeff Rutledge hit LB Harry Carson for 13 yards and a touchdown to put the Giants up 27-3. The Giants harassed Eagle QB's Ron Jaworski and Randall Cunningham all day sacking them each three times while Lawrence Taylor had his best game of the season with nine tackles and four of the six sacks. The victory was the Giants fifth in a row.

October 19 Seattle 17, GIANTS 12 (62,282) At Seattle Kingdome

The Giants five-game winning streak came to a halt at the hands of a fired up Seattle defense that registered six sacks of QB Phil Simms and intercepted him four times. The Seahawks scored first on a 16-yard pass from Steve Krieg to Gordon Hudson following a 29-yard interception return of a Simms pass by CB Dave Brown. The Giants struck back with a 32-yard touchdown pass from Simms to WR Solomon Miller but the extra point was no good. The game's turning point came in the fourth quarter with Seattle leading 10-9 and the Giants on their own 23-yard line. On first down a Simms pass went off the hands of FB Maurice Carthon and into the arms of LB Bruce Scholtz who returned it to the Giants' 19. Five plays later Curt Warner went over from the one and Seattle had the win. Joe Morris rushed for 116 yards in a losing effort while Simms completed 14 of 25 for 191 yards.

October 27 GIANTS 27, Washington 20 (75,923) At Giants Stadium

With Joe Morris leading the way with 181 yards rushing and two scores, the Giants got back on the winning track against the Redskins in this Monday Night contest. The Giants led 13-3 at halftime on the strength of a Morris 11-yard TD run and two Raul Allegre field goals. They upped the margin to 20-3 in the third quarter after Phil Simms connected with WR Bobby Johnson for a 30-yard touchdown but Washington fought back. Behind the passing of Jay Schroeder (22 of 40, 420 yards) the Redskins tied the score in the fourth quarter on a Max Zendejas 29-yard field goal but Morris's second TD with 1:44 left in the game clinched the Giants sixth win of the season. Defensively, Carl Banks was in on 10 tackles while Lawrence Taylor once again excelled with six tackles and three sacks.

November 2 GIANTS 17, Dallas 14 (74,871) At Giants Stadium

For the second time in less than a week, Joe Morris ran for 181 yards and two touchdowns as the Giants avenged the season-opening loss to the Cowboys. His production could not have come at a more opportune time as Phil Simms struggled throughout, completing only six of 18 passes for 67 yards and being sacked three times. The defense bent, but did not break as they gave up 408 total yards but sacked Dallas QB's Danny White and Steve Pelluer a total of six times and limited the vaunted Cowboy running attack to 102 yards. One of the sacks on White by LB Carl Banks broke the signal caller's left wrist and put him out for the remainder of the game. Dallas was up 7-3 in the second quarter but a 13 play, 69-yard drive by the Giants was culminated with a Morris 8-yard TD run and a 10-7 lead at halftime. Another Morris touchdown and a Tony Dorsett score in the fourth quarter put the game at 17-14. Dallas had a chance to pull out a victory with under two minutes to go, but three key penalties killed their drive and a Rafael Septien 63-yard field goal attempt was short. Harry Carson led the defense with 13 tackles while Carl Banks chipped in seven stops and two sacks.

November 9 GIANTS 17, Philadelphia 14 (60,601) At Philadelphia

In a game that lacked offensive productivity, the defenses of both teams rose to the occasion to make this a tight contest all the way to the final gun. Once again Phil Simms had a tough time, hitting on just eight of 18 passes for 130 yards and two interceptions while being sacked three times. The Eagle tandem of Ron Jaworski and Randall Cunningham fared no better as they were battered to the tune of seven sacks and two pick-offs. The Giants held a 17-7 lead late in the fourth quarter thanks to Joe Morris's two touchdowns and a Raul Allegre 22-yard field goal. Cunningham led the Eagles on a 12 play, 87-yard drive with 4:14 remaining and scored on a one-yard plunge to close the gap. Morris rushed for 111 yards, his fourth straight 100-yard plus performance while on defense Lawrence Taylor wreaked havoc on the Eagles with seven tackles and three sacks.

November 16 GIANTS 22, Minnesota 20 (62,003) At Metrodome

This contest could best be termed as "The Battle of the Field Goals," as the Giants' Raul Allegre came out victorious over Minnesota's Chuck Nelson. Allegre kicked five field goals and just missed one from 60 yards away while Nelson connected on two of three. The two traded three-pointers back and forth throughout the first half as the Giants led 9-6 at the half. The Vikings went on top in the third quarter when Tommy Kramer hit FB Allan Rice with an 8-yard TD pass but an Allegre 37-yard field goal and a 25-yard touchdown pass from Phil Simms to WR Bobby Johnson gave the Giants a 19-13 advantage. Kramer jammed his right thumb in the fourth quarter and was replaced by back-up Wade Wilson who promptly tossed a 33-yard scoring strike to WR Anthony Carter and a 20-19 Viking lead. With under 2:00 to go the Giants were on their own 48-yard line facing a fourth and seventeen. On perhaps their biggest play of the season, Simms hit Johnson for 22 yards and the first down on the Vikings 30-yard line. Five plays later Allegre hit the game winner from 33-yards out with just 0:15 remaining and the Giants had their ninth win of the season.

November 23 GIANTS 19, Denver 16 (75,116) At Giants Stadium

A week earlier the Giants came back to beat the Minnesota Vikings on a last second field goal by Raul Allegre. It seemed almost like a carbon copy vs. the Broncos as all the heroes from the previous game were once again instrumental in the Giants win. Denver held a 6-3 lead late in the first half and were driving in for another score with a first down on the Giants' 13. Bronco QB John Elway attempted a swing pass to RB Sammy Winder that was intercepted by DE George Martin who rumbled 78 yards down the sideline to paydirt and a 10-6 Giant lead at halftime. The touchdown was the seventh of Martin's career, six of which came on defense, an NFL record for defensive linemen. Both teams kicked field goals in the third quarter and Allegre put another through the uprights to keep the Giants ahead 16-9. Elway conducted a nine play, 73-yard drive with Winder going in from the four and Denver tied it with 2:00 to go. Once again it was Phil Simms to Bobby Johnson for the clutch play as he hit him on a third and 21 from the 18 yard line to keep the Giants final drive alive. With :57 remaining, Simms found WR Phil McConkey all alone for a 46-yard gain at the Denver 15. Two plays later, Allegre kicked his fourth field goal of the game to win it. Joe Morris rushed for 106 yards on 23 carries while on defense, Carl Banks recorded 11 tackles and Harry Carson had 10.

December 1 GIANTS 21, San Francisco 17 (59,777) At San Francisco

After spotting the 49ers a 17-0 lead in the first half, the Giants came roaring back scoring 21 unanswered points in the second half to win their sixth in a row. Niner QB Joe Montana led the offense on drives of 69, 72 and 77 yards capping them off with a Ray Wersching 30-yard field goal, an 11-yard TD pass to Jerry Rice and a one-yard end around by Rice. The Giants totally dominated the rest of the game. San Francisco was able to shut down Joe Morris limiting him to just 14 yards on 13 carries but could not stop Phil Simms who threw for 388 yards and two touchdowns. Simms connected with Morris in the third quarter for 17 yards and a score and later hit Stacy Robinson from 34 yards out to close within three points of the Niners. Simms found Robinson again the fourth quarter for a 49-yard gain to the San Francisco one where Ottis Anderson, acquired a few weeks back from the St. Louis Cardinals, scored the touchdown that put the Giants ahead to stay. Carl Banks and Harry Carson led all defenders with nine tackles each.

December 7 GIANTS 24, Washington 14 (55,642) At Washington

With both teams tied for first atop the NFC East with 11-2 records, the Giants were able to take sole possession of the division with a solid victory over the 'Skins. The Giants opened up the game with two Phil Simms completions to TE Mark Bavaro for 46 yards to get down to the Redskin 29. On the next play, Simms was picked-off by CB Darell Green but the tone had been set. In the second quarter, the Giants put together a 10-play, 77-yard drive as Simms hit Bavaro for a nine-yard score. Washington came right back with a long drive of their own and capped it off with a Kelvin Bryant four-yard run with 2:00 to go in the half. Simms then engineered a spectacular version of the two minute drill completing four passes, the last a seven yard TD pass to WR Bobby Johnson and the Giants went in at intermission ahead 14-7. In the third quarter, Raul Allegre kicked a 21-yard field goal and on Washington's next possession, QB Jay Schroeder was intercepted by Harry Carson who returned it to the Redskins 14. Three plays later, Simms connected with WR Phil McConkey for a 16-yard score and commanding 24-7 margin. The Redskins put another six points on the board with under 5:00 left but it was too little, too late. The Giant defense sacked Schroeder four times and intercepted six passes while allowing the Redskin running game just 73 yards. Harry Carson led all tacklers with 12 and Lawrence Taylor chalked up three more sacks to bring his NFL-leading total to 19½.

December 14GIANTS 27, St. Louis 7 (75,261)*At Giants Stadium

The Giants went into the game as the NFC Eastern Division Champs, their first in the past 23 years, thanks to the Redskins loss to Denver the day before. The intensity level was very high however, as the Giants wanted to keep winning to try and get home field advantage throughout the playoffs. With two Joe Morris touchdown runs and a Raul Allegre 26-yard field goal, the Giants took a 17-0 halftime lead. Morris rushed for 89 first half yards on his way to a total of 179, the seventh 100-yard plus game for Joe this season. Another Allegre field goal upped the score to 20-0 before St. Louis scored on a broken play when RB Stump Mitchell took a pitch-out, was stopped, and then whirled and threw a 15-yard TD pass to Roy Green. A late Morris one-yard touchdown plunge, his third of the game, closed out the scoring. Giants QB Phil Simms completed just five of 21 for 82 yards while his St. Louis counterpart Neil Lomax was good on 20 of 27 but was sacked a Giant team record nine times. Rookie linebacker "Pepper" Johnson had seven tackles and two sacks for the Giants while Lawrence Taylor was able to get one more QB trap to add to his NFL lead.

December 20GIANTS 55, Green Bay 24 (71,351)*At Giants Stadium

Scoring a season-high 55 points, the Giants closed out the '86 schedule with nine straight victories and won more games (14) than any other team in Giant history. The shellacking of the Packers also insured the home field advantage for the Giants throughout the playoffs. The Giants jumped out to an early 21-0 lead in the first quarter on a Phil Simms (18-25-245 yards, 3 TD's) to Mark Bavaro 24-yard touchdown pass and a blocked punt that was brought back for a score. The return and block was made by back-up safety Tom Flynn who was released by the Packers earlier in the season and gained sweet revenge on his former mates. A three-yard run by Joe Morris ended the scoring for the Giants, their most points in the first quarter all year. The Packers scored three times themselves in the second period, one a 58-yard interception return by FS Ken Stills to trail by only seven at the half. The Giants scored five more times in the second half to pull away from Green Bay and finish 8-0 at home. All-Pro pick Morris rushed for 115 yards to end up with 1,516 and 14 1D's on the year while Bavaro, also an All-Pro selection, caught five passes to run his total to 66 for 1,001 yards, both team records for a Giant tight end.

DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF GAME

January 4 GIANTS 49, San Francisco 3 (76,034) At Giants Stadium

Phil Simms set an alltime club playoff record with four touchdown passes and All-Pro RB Joe Morris rushed for 159 yards and two more TDs as the Giants shattered the 49ers, 49-3, for the largest margin of victory in club playoff history. The tenacious Giants' defense shackled the NFC's No. 1 ranked offense to just 29 yards rushing in 20 attempts and just 184 yards of total offense while added three pass interceptions and a fumble recovery. One of those interceptions was returned 34 yards for a TD by the NFL's MVP Lawrence Taylor on a play which also kayoed 49er quarterback Joe Montana. Return specialist Phil McConkey tied an NFL post-season mark with seven punt returns.

NFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

January 11 GIANTS 17, Washington 0 (76,633) At Giants Stadium

Giants won their first title game since 1956 with another powerful defensive performance which held the Redskins to 190 yards of total offense and just 40 yards rushing on 16 attempts. The Giants won the toss to start the game and elected to kick off to take advantage of a 17-to-25 mph wind condition. That paid off with 10 first period points as the Giants capitalized on Redskin punts of 23 and 27 yards into the wind to score on their first two possessions, a 47-yard Raul Allegre FG and an 11-yard TD throw from Phil Simms to Lionel Manuel. A fumble recovery by LB Carl Banks early in the second period set up the final score, which was positioned by a 30-yard toss from Simms to TE Mark Bavaro and scored by Joe Morris on a one-yard slant. Morris had 87 yards rushing in the win, and the defense added four QB sacks on Jay Schroeder and an interception by LB Gary Reasons, who also had 12 tackles in the triumph.

SUPER BOWL

January 25 GIANTS 39, Denver 20 (101,063)
At the Rose Bowl, Pasadena, CA

Led by the brilliant, record-setting passing performance of Phil Simms, the Giants rallied from a 10-9 halftime deficit for a record 30-point second half en route to the smashing 39-20 triumph. Simms was a torrid 22-of-25 for 268 yards and three touchdowns, setting not only an alltime Super Bowl record of 88.0% completion, but an alltime NFL playoff record as well. For his superlative efforts, Simms was a landslide MVP winner. Denver got on the scoreboard first on a 48-yard Rich Karlis FG, but Simms went 6-for-6 on the Giants' first possession, hitting TE Zeke Mowatt for a 6-yard TD and a 7-3 lead. Back came Denver, capitalizing on a pair of Giant penalties, for a 10-7 lead on a John Elway 4-yard draw, and then the Giants' defense came through for a series of big plays. First, the defense was magnificent on a Broncos' first-and-goal from the 1-yard line, stuffing three running plays and forcing a 23-yard FG attempt which was wide to the right. Then veteran DE George Martin sacked Elway in his own end zone for a safety which cut it to 10-9, and a subsequent defensive stand at the Giants' 16-yard line forced another FG attempt which missed from 34 yards away. The second half was all Giants as they scored on their first four possessions of the second half to slam into a 33-10 lead early in the fourth period. Simms was to throw 10-for-10 in this second half, and he hit Mark Bavaro for a 13-yard TD on the first possession for a 16-10 lead. A 25-yard punt return by Phil McConkey set up the next score, a 21-yard Raul Allegre FG, then Simms hit McConkey for a 44-yarder on a flea-flicker which positioned a 1-yard TD sweep by Joe Morris for a 26-10 lead. When Elvis Patterson intercepted Elway on the next series, the Giants scored again when McConkey grabbed a deflected pass off Mark Bavaro's helmet for a 6-yard TD and that 33-10 bulge. Simms later bootlegged a 22-yard gain to set up a 2-yard TD burst by Ottis Anderson for a 39-13 lead with just 3:18 to play...and Giants fans started their long-awaited celebrations right about then.

1986 PRE-SEASON RECAP

August 6

GIANTS 24, Atlanta 31 (25,445)

At Atlanta

After building a 14-0 lead on a pair of Phil Simms' touchdown passes in the early going, the Giants used substitutes freely and gave up 24 unanswered points to the Falcons who stayed in front thereafter for the eventual 31-24 triumph. Simms was 6-for-8 for 105 yards in his brief appearance and fired TD bombs of 42 yards to WR Lionel Manuel and 35 to WR Bobby Johnson for that early edge. Jeff Rutledge worked most of the rest of the outing at QB for the Giants and finished 16-for-29 for 263 yards, including an 8-yard TD toss to TE Mark Bavaro. Lee Rouson was the Giants' leading rusher with 34 yards on 12 carries, while Bavaro had five receptions for 69 yards and rookie WR Solomon Miller four grabs for 93 yards. The Giants had four QB sacks on defense, including a pair by rookie DE John Washington. Despite the loss, the Giants had 473 yards of total offense, while the Falcons managed just 179, but the Giants lost four fumbles and had an interception returned for a TD against them to account for most of the Atlanta scoring.

August 16

GIANTS 22, Green Bay 14 (41,824)

At Milwaukee

The Giants built a 17-0 lead midway through the second period, then added a safety and field goal in the second half to lead all the way in this 22-14 victory in Milwaukee. Jeff Hostetler was the starter at QB and led the club to a 10-0 lead, hitting TE Mark Bavaro for an 11-yard TD, then setting up an Eric Schubert 27-yard FG after Casey Merrill had recovered a Packer fumble. An interception by S Terry Kinard set another drive in motion, and Phil Simms came on to throw a 5-yard TD pass to WR Phil McConkey for that 17-0 lead. LB Andy Headen sacked Lynn Dickey for a safety in the third period for a 19-7 lead, and then Schubert closed out the Giants' scoring with a 31-yard FG in the final period. Simms was 11-for-15 for 127 yards during his stint, while Hostetler was 3-for-9 for 34 yards and Jeff Rutledge 5-for-8 for 66 yards. Lee Rouson was the leading rusher with 31 yards in seven carries, while TE Zeke Mowatt, making a comeback after knee surgery kept him out the entire 1985 season, had seven catches for 112 yards.

August 23

GIANTS 20, N.Y. Jets 16 (73,882)

At Giants Stadium

The Giants made it five straight over the Jets in pre-season play, leading all the way after building up a quick 14-0 lead. The big crowd had hardly settled in their seats when rookie Mark Collins fielded the opening kickoff and buzzed it back 97 yards for a touchdown. The next time the Giants had the ball, Phil Simms drove the club 63 yards in 13 plays for the 14-0 lead, with Lee Rouson scoring from a yard out for the quick 14-0 bulge. The Jets bounced back with a trio of Pat Leahy FGs to cut it to 14-9 at halftime, but linebacker Harry Carson came up with a pair of third period interceptions which set up field goals of 46 and 41 yards by Bob Thomas for a 20-9 Giants' lead into the final period. The Jets scored on a Johnny Hector 1-yard run to close out the scoring. The Giants had just seven pass completions in the win, with TE Mark Bavaro catching three for 45 yards. Lee Rouson was the Giants' leading rusher again with 43 yards on 14 trips, while the defense added those two interceptions and QB sacks by Lawrence Taylor, Leonard Marshall, Jim Burt and Byron Hunt.

August 30

GIANTS 17, Pittsburgh 3 (45,441)

At Giants Stadium

The Giants' defense dominated in this final pre-season victory, coming up with four interceptions, three fumble recoveries and a pair of QB sacks to limit the Steelers to 248 yards of total offense. Meanwhile, RB Joe Morris made his first appearance of the season after a contract dispute and led the rushers with 53 yards in 11 carries, including a 1-yard TD dive to open the scoring in the first period after Terry Kinard's second interception in that period. An 18-yard fumble return by Herb Welch set up the next score, a 13-yard TD pass from Phil Simms to Mark Bavaro, and then the Giants closed out their scoring on a 26-yard Ali Haji-Sheikh FG after a 52-yard pass from Jeff Rutledge to Lionel Manuel set it up. Simms was 6-for-12 for 66 yards and one TD, with Zeke Mowatt and Tony Galbreath each getting three receptions. Welch, Kenny Hill and rookie Greg Lasker had fumble recoveries, Byron Hunt, rookie Mark Collins added interceptions along with Kinard's pair, and CB's Perry Williams and Elvis Patterson had QB sacks.
